THE ANTHRACITE COAL STRIKE COMMISSION [illegible] SESSION

By Associated Press

Washington Oct 24—The members of the strike arbitration commission appointed by President Roosevelt met at the White house shortly after 10 o clock this morning and went into conference with the president E E Clark president of the Order of Railway Conductors was the first member of the commission to arrive He reached the White house exactly at 10 o clock Bishop Spalding accompanied by Dr D J Stafford of this city was the next to put in an appearance General Wilson who arrived a moment later was followed by Thomas H Watkins and [illegible] Carroll Wright the recorder of the commission Then came E W Parker the mining expert Judge Gray of the United States district court was the last member to reach the White house With his arrival the commission was complete Several of the members had never before met The introductions were made in Secretary Cortelyou's office and immediately thereafter the commission ascended the stairs to the president's reception room

The president greeted the members of the commission cordially The interview was brief lasting scarcely twenty minutes The work to be done by the commission was informally discussed The president impressed upon the commission the importance of expedition and informed them that he had decided to appoint two assistants to the recorder to facilitate the work He then presented to them their instructions, as follows

White house Washington D C Oct 23 1902—To the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission Gentlemen At the request both of the operators and of the miners I have appointed you a commission to inquire into consider and pass upon the questions in controversy in connection with the strike in the anthracite regions and the causes out of which the controversy arose By the action you recommend which the parties in interest have in advance consented to abide by you will endeavor to establish the relations between the employers and the wage workers in the anthracite fields on a just and permanent basis and as far as possible to do away with any causes for the recurrence of such difficulties as those which you have been called on to settle I submit to you herewith the published statement of the operators following which I named you as the members of the commission Mr Wright being named as recorder also the letters from Mr Mitchell

"I appoint Mr Moseley and Mr Neill as assistants to the recorder

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

With the instructions [illegible] statement of the operators the members of this commission withdrew in a body When they left the White house they declined to comment upon the [illegible] They went directly to the office of Commissioner of Labor Wright to organize and prepare for their work The commission went into executive session at Carroll Wright's office at 11 o clock Judge Gray was chosen chairman

The commission adjourned at 1 45 o clock to meet again next Monday at [illegible] o clock After the adjournment the announcement was made that only two conclusions had been reached The first of these was to admit the public to all formal meetings of the commission and the [illegible] of the parties to the controversy to be present at the meeting on Monday for the purpose of arranging a time for hearings which will be convenient for all concerned Notices were accordingly sent to the mine operators and to Mr Mitchell, president of United Mine Workers asking them to be in attendance Monday It was stated that most of the time of today's meeting was taken up with a discussion of the question as to the time when [illegible] hearings shall be heard the result of which was the conclusion to call in the people interested before reaching a decision

The commission has already adopted an official name and has had its printing prepared designating it as The Anthracite Coal Strike Commission

THE [illegible] ARE [illegible] BEING [illegible] REPLACED

By Associated Press

Wilkesbarre Pa Oct 24—There are 2[illegible] more mines in operation in the anthracite region today than yesterday [illegible] the output will be close to 100 000 tons This is as near as can be estimated From reports received the total output yesterday did not exceed [illegible] 000 tons When in full operation the mines employ in every capacity about 14[illegible] men and boys Of this number it is estimated that 52 000 were at work today A more amicable feeling prevailed today between employers and employes than yesterday The excitement [illegible] the commencement of work [illegible] yesterday [illegible] somewhat today and there was more work and less talk

[illegible] non union men despite [illegible] are slowly being displaced in many of the mines and the old employes are taking their places

The Lackawanna company continues to lead in [illegible] There are two reasons for this First the mines are in good condition and there is less friction between the district superintendents and the men who have returned to work The work of clearing up those mines that are filled with debris from falls is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible and the fact that they are not in readiness to open is a great disappointment to the mine owners

Ex Congressman Williams one of the leading individual operators in the Wyoming region said his mines would not be in readiness to resume before next week but he would take back all his old employes including steam men because they had served him faithfully in the past The trouble with the individual operators in the Lehigh region is expected to blow over in a day or two and it is said here on good authority tonight that all old employes in the Lehigh and Schuylkill regions that are in condition to [illegible] will resume next Monday and that all the union miners will be employed The mine inspectors are vigilant and they refuse to give [illegible] to the starting up of mines where the superintendent [illegible] cannot furnish satisfactory proof that the underground workings are perfectly safe

President Mitchell continues [illegible] to be quoted on any move made by the operators either regarding the [illegible] of the old employes or [illegible] in the [illegible] of coal The evidence which he will present to the arbitration committee is now being [illegible] in systematic form When Mr Mitchell was asked [illegible] that the [illegible] [illegible] would permit [illegible] to appear before the commission on behalf of the miners he said that he [illegible] the [illegible] could select any counsel they [illegible] to present their case before the commission President Mitchell pledged himself before the miners convention held in this city at the beginning of the week to present the case of the union miners before the arbitration board Mr Mitchell has received a call to Washington and will leave here Sunday afternoon

Stanley Mecelley a Lithuanian miner, was enticed into a house occupied by one of his countrymen in this city last night and after being stripped of his clothing was beaten most unmercifully all over his body with a heavy rubber hose He made his escape from the house more dead than alive He was accused of having scabbed during the strike [illegible] six men were arrested charged with being implicated in the assault

Phonograph Campaign in Eastern El Paso County

Armed only with a phonograph and natural eloquence three stalwart Republicans are making their way through the eastern section of the county literally [illegible] with enthusiasm for the Republican ticket It is the first and only appearance of the [illegible] phonograph campaigners and they are said to be making good with a vengeance The phonograph is carried in a coat pocket and is always ready for business It can give the masses a Virginia reel or a lissert [illegible] or pleading if necessary It will sing In the Good Old Summer time or My Mother Was a Lady with equal facility And [illegible] making the biggest hit of a hit

Sheriff Gilbert Arthur Cornforth candidate for senator and C W Dolph candidate for representative constitute the campaigners They are making addresses in the various small towns of the eastern part of the county and everywhere they are being met by large audiences They spoke last night at Peyton and will take in Fountain Calhan Monument and Palmer Lake before [illegible] up the phonograph and natural eloquence and bringing them home The phonograph was certainly a [illegible] and the crowds who heard the speakers got an entertainment on the side

TOM HORN WAS FOUND GUILTY

Convicted of Murder in First Degree----Strongest Evidence Against Him Was Confession.

By Associated Press

Cheyenne Wyo Oct 24—Tom Horn the famous scout and stock detective was this morning found guilty of murder in the first degree The trial of Horn for the murder of Willie Nickell 14 years old son of Kels Nickell on July 18 1901 at his father's ranch in the Iron mountain country was begun October 10 The arguments were finished and the case given to the jury at 11 o clock today The verdict was reached before [illegible] o clock this evening

The claim of the prosecution was that Horn in the pay of certain large cattleowners, killed the Nickell boy in an effort to frighten his father and cause him to leave the country The strongest evidence against Horn was his own confession made to Deputy Sheriff Joseph H Lefores in which he gave minute details of the crime Horn at the trial admitted making the confession but claimed it was false and only made in a bragging way while he and Lefores were exchanging yarns

Horn has long been known on the frontier as a fearless scout and served with the American army in Cuba in charge of a pack train

[illegible] REPUBLICAN [illegible] GAZETTE

Both the Denver News and its evening assignment the Times are having hysterical fits because the Republican papers of the state are telling the truth concerning the payment of interest into the state treasury by Mr Carlile when he was state treasurer in 1891 and 1892 Friday night the Denver Times had the following editorial

HONOR WHERE HONOR IS DUE

When a citizen does a service to the state he should have the credit for it not only because he deserves credit, but so that others may be inspired to do likewise in the hope of receiving public honor and approbation

No one should attempt to take from James N Carlile of Pueblo the credit for overthrowing the old rule under which state treasurers pocketed the interest on state funds Mr Carlile made his race in 1890 on a pledge that he would turn the interest into the state treasury and his campaign and its successful termination aroused public feeling on the subject to such an extent that the legislature which was elected at the same time that he was passed a law requiring subsequent treasurers to pay the interest into the treasury The law of course, could not apply to Carlile but he paid the interest into the treasury just the same

The Times is led to recite this bit of ancient history because the Colorado Springs Gazette which professes fairness and the Denver Republican are sneering at Carlile Both Mr Stevens of the Gazette and the manager of the Republican know that they are committing an injustice to a good citizen merely because he is a candidate for office at this election

As the people well know the Gazette never knowingly or wilfully misrepresents any person whether in or out of a campaign and it has not misrepresented Mr Carlile in his attitude with reference to the payment of interest into the state treasury The real facts connected with the payment of interests by Mr Carlile are these

Late in the year 1889 Mr I N Stevens who was then district attorney of Arapahoe county made a grand jury investigation of all state treasurers who could be reached within the statute of limitations in either civil or criminal cases for failure to turn interest collected by them into the treasury of the state At that time there was no statute carrying into effect the constitutional provision of the state prohibiting the collection of interest by state treasurers. The constitution provided as follows

"Any person holding the office of state treasurer who shall directly or indirectly receive from any person or persons or body of persons association or corporation, for himself or otherwise than in behalf of the state, any reward, in consideration of the loan to or deposit with any such person or body of persons association or corporation of any public money belonging to the state or in consideration of any other agreement or arrangement touching the use of such money or shall use any such money for any purpose not authorized by law, shall be deemed guilty of a felony

The grand jury that investigated the matter obtained the necessary data from the bankers of the city of Denver for the bringing of civil actions against some three state treasurers and for the bringing of a criminal action against two of such state treasurers

Indictments were returned as the writer remembers at the present time without the records which are not accessible against two ex-state treasurers, and the grand jury made a public report giving in detail the data which it had been enabled to obtain This report was referred to the Republican attorney general Hon. Samuel W Jones of Summit county who immediately began civil suits against all of the ex treasurers whom he could reach within the statute supreme courts of the state the supreme court holding that the provision of the constitution above referred to was not self-operative and required legislation to make it effective

These indictments and civil suits were pending when Mr Carlile was nominated for treasurer in 1890 and as may be imagined the report of the grand jury, which was given wide publicity and the action taken both civilly and criminally against the ex treasurers who had failed to account for interest had aroused a powerful public sentiment in favor of interest being paid into the state treasury and Mr Carlile's pledge to turn such interest into the state treasury was given in conformity to such an aroused public sentiment and was really forced upon him and he simply forestalled the action which the next session of the legislature was bound to take

The Gazette has no doubt that Mr Carlile would have kept his pledge to the people whether or not the legislature had passed the act which it subsequently did pass making operative the felony provision of the constitution above referred to

But the fact remains that one of the first bills passed by the Republican legislature of 1891 was a bill making it a felony punishable by confinement in the penitentiary not less than one year nor more than five years for any state treasurer who should fail to turn all interest collected by him into the treasury of the state

The most ridiculous part of the statement of the Denver Times is the following THE LAW OF COURSE COULD NOT APPLY TO CARLILE BUT HE PAID THE INTEREST INTO THE TREASURY JUST THE SAME "

It is hard to discover how Mr Carlile could have avoided the provisions of a criminal statute such as the one passed by the legislature in 1891, for no state treasurer ever contended that the interest was any part of his legitimate salary or fees and the supreme court expressly declared that the constitution made the act of keeping interest a felony which required only an act of the legislature to make it fully operative.

The above is the true and correct statement of the inauguration of the movement for the payment of interest into the state treasury and it must be clear to every thinking reader that Mr Carlile did nothing more than defer to an aroused public indignation against treasurers who had been guilty of pocketing funds which from every moral standpoint belonged to the people of the state.

It might be noted in this connection that Mr Charles S. Thomas was one of the attorneys for the state treasurers against whom suits were instituted for failure to pay interest into the state treasury

It is also proper to state that the Denver News the Leadville Herald-Democrat and other state papers had for two years prior to 1890 made a vigorous fight for the payment of interest by the state treasurers into the state treasury.

[illegible] ROBBER

By Associated Press

Missoula Mont Oct 24—East bound passenger train No 2 on the Northern Pacific was held up by a lone robber last night near Drummond Mont. at a place 45 miles from this city and Engineer Dan O Neill was killed by the bandit who afterward rifled the mail and express cars

The train which included mail, baggage and express cars with nine coaches arrived at Missoula at 10 30 p m from Portland and coast cities and proceeded eastward after a short delay at this station It arrived after midnight at a place two miles west of Drummond Here the train was signaled to stop and the engineer accordingly slackened speed

While doing so he saw a man creeping toward him over the tender The man who was armed called to O Neill to stop the train instantly The engineer took in the situation at once, and pulling open the throttle, tried to start the train at full speed The robber divined his purpose and fired at him The shot took instant effect and the engineer fell dead at his post

The robber then proceeded to rifle the express and mail cars He plundered the registered mail and blew open the safe in the express car which was wrecked by the explosion. He also dynamited the baggage car. The amount of plunder which he secured is not known at present, but it is supposed to be large

The excitement on the train was intense The sudden stopping of the train followed soon by the explosion, spread alarm among the train hands and the passengers The darkness of the night and the loneliness of the place added to the general terror

The robber boasted that he was the man who took part in the hold-up of the Southern Pacific train near Portland Ore about a year ago He made his boast to the train hands to terrorize them while he employed them to run the train four miles that is to two miles east of Drummond He declared that he would be hard to catch as he had a horse in the timber Word of the attack was sent to Drummond, whence it was telegraphed to Deer Lodge about 50 miles away, and Warden Conley of the Deer Lodge penitentiary started for the scene at once with bloodhounds

Sheriff Prescott with a strong force of men started at once for the scene of the robbery on a special train. The coroner went with him

The mask worn by the bandit was found on a mountain trail, two miles from the scene of the hold-up. The bloodhounds were given the scent of the mask and immediately took up the trail which was then about eight hours old. The Northern Pacific has offered a reward of $5 000 for the delivery of the robber, dead or alive.

Dan O Neill the murdered engineer, lived in this city and had a wife and five children He had been in the service of the Northern Pacific longer than any other engineer.

[illegible] STORM [illegible]

By Associated Press

Seattle Wash, Oct. 24—One of the worst storms that ever raged in the Bering sea raked the coast from October 11 to 14 Three lives were lost in the Nome sea and a large amount of damage was done to buildings along the water front. The drowned men are

GEORGE GURTH, engineer of Sessions naphtha launch.
GEORGE ROBINSON,
C E KELLEY, boatman

The accident occurred on the night of Monday, October 13, and was witnessed by many who were unable to render assistance owing to the fury of the waves.

The news was brought down today by passengers on the steamship St. Paul, which left Nome Wednesday evening, October 15, after having to put behind Sledge island for four days to keep from being buffeted about by the storm

On Friday afternoon October 17, the wind began to blow very hard when the St. Paul was a few hours out from St. Michael By the time the boat reached the Nome harbor a gale was in progress and boats were being tossed about like chips on the waves One of the lighters from the St. Paul was taken away and stranded on the beach. Saturday morning there was a lull for a few hours and the loading of the boats in the harbor was begun. However, by noon the gale was on again worse than ever and all vessels were forced to put in behind Sledge island for safety and remained there until Tuesday night. Wednesday night when the St. Paul left, the wind had ceased and it was thought the blow was over. On Sunday the damage was done to the water front buildings. During the fury of the gale the water rose to eighteen inches higher than it was in 1900, when the greatest damage in the history of the country was done This fact leads to the fears that when the next boats arrive they will bring news of serious damage at St. Michael. The drowning of the three men Monday night was due to the capsizing of a dory in which were five men The two who escaped, only did so after a hard struggle.

False Reports of the Sale of the Overton Refinery

In contradiction of statements published here last night one of the parties in interest said last evening that Pueblo parties have not purchased the old Rocky Mountain Oil company's refinery at Overton, neither is W. Willis of this city president of that company which is a thing of the past, and was years ago. As a matter of fact the plant has been under process of sale piecemeal for months past.

H. Ward P. [illegible] of Cleveland is trustee of the old plant for the bondholders and C. E. Titus of this city is agent for the trustee. Mr. Titus has been engaged in disposing of the old plant for some time. The trustee bid in the works for $25,000 some years ago.

Yesterday Mr. Titus was in Pueblo with some Boulder parties and sold a portion of the machinery to them. There is already a refinery at Boulder and some of the old Overton machinery can be used there. Overton is eight miles north of Pueblo and the plant when first built in the early 80s at a cost of about $1,000,000 dollars caused a small town to spring up there. The works today are a dismal monument to the rapacity of the Standard Oil company which finally caused it to close down in 1893 for good and all. Since then the plant has been operated on only by time and rust, the big tanks being the home of the rattlesnake and jack rabbit for the most part. During the [illegible] was [illegible] the Rocky Mountain company [illegible] the Standard [illegible] sold in Pueblo [illegible] a gallon.

Most of the machinery has been removed from the plant having been sold throughout the country. It has been kept in pretty good condition and is very salable. The numerous brick buildings are being torn down and the brick hauled into Pueblo where it is going into new buildings, the cost of building material there making it a big snap. A four inch pipe line connects the works with Florence and part of this has been removed. It will take some time to clear up all the machinery and material for the plant was one of the largest in the country but it will be done and the town of Overton and Pueblo's greatest industry, excepting alone the steel works, will soon be a memory.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by all Druggists.

WITCH HAZEL

Dickenson's Double Distilled.

Dickenson also makes a "Standard" Witch Hazel but it is a lower grade than the double distilled. The distillers tell us that the "Standard" is the grade sold by most druggists, perhaps this accounts for the enormous and growing sale that we have for this Double Distilled Witch Hazel, because it is the best Witch Hazel made and we do not dilute it.

We have it put up in ½-pints, 15c, pints 25c, quarts 50c.

Compare this Witch Hazel with Pond's Extract (which costs three times as much.)

Elaborate Preparations for the Social Session

Elaborate preparations are being made by Colorado Springs lodge No. 309 B. P. O. Elks for the smoker which will be given November 4 in honor of James R. Barnes of the Sousa band, a member of the local lodge, and who will be here on that date with the band. W. McK. Harbour, who was chairman of the committee on arrangements for the [illegible] will be unable to [illegible] by reason of being out of the city and [illegible] has been named [illegible] Invitations will be [illegible] in the lodge [illegible] requested to be present.

The smoker will [illegible] immediately after the [illegible] at the opera house. Mr. Barnes [illegible] of the most popular [illegible] member of No. 309 and all the lodge members will be glad to turn out and [illegible] him home.

"Game of Civilization: Who Are the Winners?"

The attendance at the Socialist rally last evening was even larger than that of Thursday evening, there being over 1,000 people in the audience. Last night Stitt Wilson spoke on the subject of "The Game of Civilization: Who Are the Winners." [illegible]

The first part of the address was a review of the main points of the talk of Thursday evening. The purpose of the Socialist movement and the [illegible] facts and [illegible] century were outlined.

"Our purpose," said the speaker, "is the universal perfection, happiness and prosperity [illegible]" [illegible]

Amusements

WARDE AND JAMES IN THE TEMPEST

[illegible] the Opera House [illegible] Warde and Louis James will appear [illegible]

The popularity [illegible] revival is doubtless due to the [illegible] most exquisite of Shakespeare's comedies. The scenery is said to present the most entrancing harmony of color imaginable and that the transformation of some of the scenes [illegible] magic of [illegible]. That which has perhaps received more lavish praise than the others is the scene of the storm and shipwreck with which the play begins. [illegible] and ominous sounds of wind and beast and the weird music of aerial spirits floating [illegible] the approaching fury of the elements. Sunshine and blue sky give place to lurid lowering clouds, lightning plays havoc with its forked tongue while the winds howl through the trees, bending them bend their heads to the ground. [illegible] the wind increases in fury and lights [illegible] with every fitful flash of lightning the storm tossed [illegible] whipped into fury by the gale and dashing [illegible] ground. Amid a [illegible] of lightning and [illegible] the noble ship is seen plunging toward the rocks [illegible] in the [illegible] for Naples when they originally set out and hovering in the sunbeams and fleecy clouds is the fairy sprite Ariel who has served Prospero in his works of magic but now set free as a reward for loyalty and obedience.

These and other scenic effects, the brilliant costumes which were designed by Mrs. Siedle of the Metropolitan Opera house, the beautiful incidental music arranged and composed by Max [illegible] Gross, together with the large and imposing aggregation of dramatic and vocal talent has made this production of "The Tempest" one of the artistic sensations of the modern stage in America.

THE BELLE OF NEW YORK

That perennial success "The Belle of New York," which comes to the Opera house on Tuesday evening, needs no introduction to local theater-goers. Those who have already seen this gorgeous gayety will welcome its coming and will be delighted to have another opportunity of hearing such tuneful numbers as "Follow On," "When We Are Married," "In Far Cohoes," "Wine, Woman and Song," and the other popular musical numbers all of which were hummed and sung here long after "The Belle" had departed last season. Another important feature of the announcement is the fact that all the old favorites will be seen in their respective parts. James Darling, who combines the duties of stage manager with playing his famous comedy role of Kenneth Mugg, will again be seen with the company. Messrs. Frank Keenan and Frank Rowan remain with the company as the lively little Portuguese counts. Miss Flove Redlidge is this season the delightfully pretty Salvation Army lassie and other beautiful girls in the list of principals are Miss Marie Della Ross, Miss Charlotte Curt, Miss Tolly Craig, Miss Violet Letter and Miss Jeanette Lewis. Three or four special engagements among the men also form interesting theatrical reading. One is that of Mr. Joe Natus, a man whose splendid singing voice has been praised by the cities of continental Europe, England and America. Another is the special engagement of Mr. Neil Nye, a famous English comedian, to play Dan Daly's old role. Still another is that of Mr. Harry A. Tiuax, the popular San Francisco baritone, to sing and play Harry Bronson, and still another is that of Mr. Max Bloom to play the eccentric role of the polite lunatic.

SPECIAL TRAIN FROM BOULDER

Will Bring University Enthusiasts to Town Tomorrow—College Team Will Loaf at the Canon This Afternoon—Tickets Going Fast

Everything was comparatively quiet in college football circles yesterday as far as the local end of it was concerned. Manager Van Nest and Captain Jonson and Prof. Ahlers were in Denver with Hester at the trial at the D. A. C. club house, and the football squad only went through light practice. No heavy work of any kind was done. Coach Caldwell putting the men through light signal work and trick play. This afternoon the team will go out to Cheyenne canon and rest during the afternoon. The general signal work will be talked over, signal work will be made as perfect as possible and the trick plays will be completed. In the evening the squad will take dinner at Hagerman hall and will take a good night's rest in preparation for tomorrow's big game with C. U.

With the exception of Horgan all the boys are in very good condition and feel confident of landing the victory tomorrow. The swelling in Horgan's ankle has gone down considerably but it still gives him a great deal of pain and it is hardly probable that he will be able to play tomorrow. [illegible] will play full in Horgan's place.

Manager Van Nest and Prof. Ahlers, when they returned from Denver last night reported a great deal of interest in the game of tomorrow. At all the Denver poolrooms odds are being offered at [illegible]. At some places these odds [illegible] of the college and in others in favor of C. U. There are plenty of backers however for the college odds and public opinion as to the result of the game is about evenly divided.

The State Athletic association after the trial of Hester yesterday afternoon determined upon the following officials for the game: [illegible] of Greeley referee, and Stearns of Denver umpire. This action was taken [illegible] the association as the two colleges themselves could not come to any definite conclusion in regard to the matter and to save further wrangling the association itself took up the selection. The minor officials, timers and linesmen will be selected before the game tomorrow. The announcement that the officials have been agreed upon will please everyone as, judging from the howl that has been put up on both sides already in regard to the officials the matter would have gone on indefinitely.

Judging by the reports sent out from Boulder, the whole college population of the town will be down tomorrow to yell their lungs out in an effort to land the game for the university eleven. A special train will come down over the Colorado & Southern tomorrow morning, bringing at least 1?0 rooters. The Boulderites will have [illegible] men on the field Saturday in moleskins so it is evident that they are going to be prepared.

The sale of seats is progressing very [illegible] that the great [illegible] game of the [illegible] will be witnessed by the greatest crowd of the year. The athletic association is very anxious to sell as many tickets as possible [illegible]. Today tickets will [illegible] grounds [illegible] the [illegible] will be [illegible] cents. This [illegible] to the grandstand [illegible] cents. Box seats [illegible] worth [illegible] cents. BALL PLAYERS [illegible]

Charles A. [illegible] sometimes called "Kid" Nichols, manager of the champion Kansas City team of the Western league, Mrs. Nichols, J. H. McCarthy, outfielder for the Cleveland team of the American league, and Mrs. McCarthy, who are in the city on a pleasure trip, yesterday went to Cripple Creek over the Short Line. To say that they are pleased would be putting it mildly. The ball players and their better halves say the trip is one of the finest they ever made and as they are all experienced travelers they are in a position to judge. They were immensely pleased with the scenery along the Short Line route.

In the district they visited the Portland mine and went down to the ?00 foot level, then taking a long walk through the stopes and drifts. Saturday the party will go to Denver to continue their sight seeing. Nichols is well pleased with Colorado Springs as a baseball town and regards it as one of the best in the league. He is also highly satisfied with his Kansas City season and looks for even better things next year.

Bobby Lowe, for twelve years with Nichols on the Boston National league team, arrived in the city last evening and saw his old team mate. Lowe went with Selee to Chicago at the beginning of last season and was captain and mainstay of the Recruits during the year until he became injured. Lowe is one of the best second and third basemen and short stops in the business and is a wise old general on the diamond. His work had much to do with the Chicago team and made a hard fight for second place during the early part of the season.

Populist Replies to Democratic Requests to Support Democratic Ticket---Socialists Are Planning to Have Debs Follow Bryan Across the State.

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Denver, October 24.—A. B. Gray has replied to the statement recently issued by Chairman Milton Smith of the Democratic state central committee urging all Populists to support the Democratic ticket. Mr. Gray's reply follows in part:

"One of the amusing things of the present campaign is the frantic effort of the Democrats to keep the members of the People's party from voting for their own candidates. The latest scheme of the bumptious chairman of the Democratic state central committee is a personal letter to every Populist whose address he has been able to secure, begging them to once more suck their thumbs and vote for his corporation ticket. I have received several letters [illegible] of Milton's epistle and the following is a fair sample of what the Populists think of that appeal. A county official writes me as follows: 'I received a pitiful appeal from Milton Smith this morning begging me to take off my coat and go to work for the Democratic ticket. I admire his gall, but I would lose all self-respect if I did any [illegible] Democracy this year.'

"If any of the Populists take the trouble to answer the letters received Mr. Smith will soon learn that he is dealing with men and not with office seekers."

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM—The State Federation of Labor recently sent letters of inquiry to all of the legislative candidates and the several political parties asking them if they would support the initiative and referendum if they were elected. So far they have received 1[illegible] replies, nearly all of which promise to support the measure. A summary of replies is as follows: Socialists 2[illegible] yes; Prohibitionists 4 yes; Democrats 43 yes and 8 no; Fusion [illegible] yes; Populists 12 yes, 1 no; Republicans 38 yes, [illegible] no. The friends of the measure are confident of its success during the next legislature.

SOCIALIST CAMPAIGN—The Socialists who have been carrying on an active campaign in Colorado this year and who claim that they will cast 15,000 votes this coming election, have completed a poll of 32 of the 57 counties of the state. This poll shows that they will cast 8,490 votes in these counties. Their strongholds are Arapahoe, Teller and the western slope counties. Eugene V. Debs, their leader, has notified the local Socialist committee that he will close the campaign in Colorado for their ticket. It is the intention to have him follow Mr. Bryan throughout the state. It is semi-officially announced that the Populists will have Judge Owers follow Mr. Bryan.

FIREMAN KILLED—Fireman P. F. Moroney of the Colorado & Southern was instantly killed at Pitkin, Colo., this morning. He was on an engine which was backing down the steep grade at Pitkin when in some manner the engine was ditched. He was a resident of Como and is said to have been one of the most popular men of the Colorado & Southern. He leaves a family.

COLORADO CELERY—For the first time in the history of the state Colorado celery is being shipped to the eastern market. Nearly 25 carloads have already been shipped and a conservative estimate for the season is that not less than 40 cars will be shipped. A carload of celery weighs 24,000 pounds. This means that 960,000 pounds will be sent to the eastern market.

GUNNISON TUNNEL—The people of Uncompahgre have appointed a committee to work with the government hydrographers in the matter of the construction of the Gunnison tunnel. The duty of the committee will be to harmonize the interests of private ditches with the government ownership. The following is the committee: F. D. Catlin, J. F. Kyle, S. S. Sherman, P. T. Stevens, J. A. Curtis, George Stephan, G. S. Conklin, W. O. Stephens, F. E. Dodge, W. E. Obert, E. B. Anderson, A. R. King, C. M. Hammond, O. M. Kern, A. F. Reeves, J. W. Trisler, J. J. Tobin, J. H. Halley, W. J. Horton, W. F. McHer and Rulla Butterfield.

MINERS RELIEF FUND—The total amount raised in Denver for the benefit of the striking miners of Pennsylvania to date is $1,871.65. The amounts are being sent to the miners headquarters as fast as possible.

RAN INTO SEWER DITCH—Albert W. Martin, a Denver student living at 2613 Race street, was seriously injured by falling into a ditch at Thirty-second and Gilpin street last night. Some workmen had been laying some sewers and had forgotten to place danger signals along the route of the sewer. Martin came along on his wheel and rode into the sewer without knowing of the [illegible]

J. Burton of Denver three weeks wages of W. G. Burton, the young miner who was killed by a cave-in at that mine a few days ago. The company wants the courts to take charge of the money. The miners declare that they will remain out until the money is turned over to the [illegible] man's brother.

GOLDFIELD TREASURER

Special to the Gazette

Goldfield, Oct. 24.—T. P. Saunders has been appointed city treasurer to fill the vacancy that was made a short time ago. M. Saunders term of office will only last until next spring election.

James S. Murphy left for Denver with his brother Con Murphy, who was unfortunate enough to cut a small gash in his knee with an ax a few days ago from which blood poisoning set in, threatening the loss of the limb. The man was shift boss of the Hull City Placer mine and was helping to timber the shaft when the accident occurred.

RALLY AT COAL CREEK

Special to the Gazette

Florence, Oct. 24.—An enthusiastic Republican rally was held at the Odd Fellows hall at Coal Creek tonight which formally closed the campaign here. Republican leaders say that the county is coming back into the fold of Republicanism. The speakers of the evening were Senator Johnston, A. H. McLain, J. B. Moore, candidate for representative, L. BOYCOTTER'S SENTENCE.

Dublin, Oct. 24.—The sentence imposed on James P. Farrell, M. P., who was convicted of publishing intimidating articles in his newspaper, the Longford Leader, and was sentenced to two months' imprisonment at hard labor and to an additional three months in default of bail for good behavior, has been confirmed by the Longford assizes. Judge Curran offered to reduce the sentence to a month and omit hard labor if Mr. Farrell would promise to cease boycotting and intimidation. This the prisoner, however, refused to do.

CORONATION HONORS

London, Oct. 24.—Nearly 400 recipients of coronation war honors were invested by King Edward at Buckingham palace today. The investiture was carried out in the ball room with unusual ceremony. All the great officers of state were present and the scene was particularly brilliant as all the participants, in accordance with the king's instructions, were all the ribbons, orders or medals they possessed.

CORONER'S INQUEST IN CASE OF MRS. ADA DENNIS

By Associated Press

Washington, Oct. 24.—A coroner's inquest was begun here today over the remains of Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, the fashionable dressmaker who died Wednesday as a result of the mysterious assault committed upon her ten months ago. One of the important witnesses, Richard Col[illegible], a colored porter who attended to some of Mrs. Dennis' financial transactions and who was acquainted with most of her callers, was absent on account of illness. On account of the revival of talk regarding the possible connection between the tragedy and the subsequent suicide of Samuel J. Presley, a printer, two of the latter's brothers from New Orleans were in attendance today.

Dr. Wade H. Atkinson, who attended the murdered woman, and Mrs. Jane E. Dennis, her aged mother-in-law, gave testimony that threw no light on the case. Mrs. Dennis said Presley had never visited her daughter and that she knew of no male visitors.

KING OSCAR SUMMONED TO APPEAR IN COURT

By Associated Press

Stockholm, Oct. 24.—King Oscar has had the novel experience of being summoned to appear in court, in connection with documents belonging to the late Helga de La Brache, said to be in his possession. Helga, who was the daughter of the dethroned King Gustavus Adolphus IV, died some years ago. Her legatee now demands the delivery of papers received by King Oscar's father from Helga. These papers are understood to be of an interesting historical character.

ASSASSIN OF STAMBOULOFF SENTENCED TO BE HANGED

By Associated Press.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 24.—Michael Stavreff, alias Halju, was today found guilty of the murder of ex-Premier Stambouloff in 1895 and sentenced to be hanged. The accused pleaded not guilty. Companions of M. Stambouloff testified that Stavreff fired the first shot.

Stephen N. Stambouloff, who has been called the Bismarck of Bulgaria, was assassinated at Sofia on the evening of July 15, 1895, three months after his dismissal from the premiership. The crime was committed while M. Stambouloff and a friend were returning from a club in a carriage. They were stopped by three or four men armed with knives and pistols, and the ex-premier leaping to the ground to defend himself, was overcome receiving over 20 wounds in the head in addition to other injuries. The number and severity of his wounds, together with the amputation of both his hands, resulted in his death three days late.

Woman in an Unconscious Condition Found on Sidewalk.

Upon Examination at the Hospital, Her Body was Discovered to be Covered with Scars, Caused by the Hypodermic Injection of Morphine—Facts Published as Warning to Other Women.

The above headlines recite the actual experience of a poor wreck of a woman who had once held an honorable and lucrative position in a large mercantile house in New York. Her health began to fail, and instead of taking rest and proper medical treatment she resorted to stimulants and morphine.

The hospital physician discovered that her primary trouble was an affection of the womb, which could readily have been cured in the first stages. If when she had first felt those severe pains in the back, the terrible headaches, the constant sense of fullness, soreness and pain in the pelvic region, she had heeded the warning that serious trouble was in store, and commenced a regular treatment with the Pinkham Remedies, as did Mrs. Rober of Chicago, whose letter follows, the polypus in the womb would have been dissolved and passed away, and to-day she would have been a well woman.

Why will women let themselves drift along into terrible suffering and sickness in this way, when there is monumental proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is daily relieving thousands of women from this very trouble? There is no excuse for any woman who suffers to go without help. Mrs. Pinkham is very glad indeed to give her personal advice to any one who will write for it, and the following letter simply goes to prove that the Vegetable Compound will positively cure female ills.

"Since the birth of my baby I suffered from womb trouble, backache, irregular menstruation, also intense nervousness.

"After trying different remedies with no relief I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. To my surprise and delight I found after taking my first bottle very great improvement. I continued its use and it has made me a well woman.

"I am so grateful to you for my recovery that I wish to thank you, and if this testimonial will be of any use to other suffering women, you have my full permission to publish it."—Mrs. Mary Rober, 4549[illegible] Ellis Ave., Chicago, Ill. —$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Free Medical Advice to Women.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The annual report of the secretary of the navy of Engineer-in-Chief George Melville, is of unusual interest this year. Mr. Melville says with the greatest frankness that the personnel act has proved to be a failure as it is administered and he declares that one-half of the officers of the navy have yet to be convinced of the benefits of amalgamation. To use his own words in referring to the personnel act: "It was rather a revolution than progression in naval development when congress enacted a law whereby every officer of the line had, in the future to become a fighting engineer." European experts declare that either their own navies were not properly organized, or that the United States had made a mistake from which it would not recover for at least 20 years. Still, Admiral Melville thinks that if the law were administered with a desire to make it a success it would give the most efficient navy in the world. To that end he wants an engineering laboratory at Annapolis like that at Charlottenburg, Germany, for experimentation and the education in engineering of young line officers. He also asks the establishment of a post graduate corps in engineering at the academy, the detail of a junior line officer as understudy to engineer officers on shore duty, such junior officers to be placed in charge of the machinery of torpedo boats and auxiliary craft, that promotion be denied line officers who do not take their turn at engineering work, that graduates of technical colleges be permitted a chance to compete for naval commissions, that 100 additional warrant officers be appointed, that naval training be had at every naval station, that the pay of the boilermen be increased and finally that the name of the bureau of steam engineering be changed to that of engineering, and that it be given charge of all machinery on shipboard except that pertaining to the guns.

The proposed use of petroleum as a substitute for coal on shipboard is treated at length.

Following is an extract from the report on this subject:

"The more this question is investigated, the more intricate seems the problem of successfully installing an oil fuel appliance on board a battleship. It ought to be successfully used on the torpedo boats as well as upon auxiliary naval vessels that steam between regular ports. For the army transport service it might prove very desirable since a supply of oil could be maintained at the several calling ports. In regard to the installation on the large powered battleships and armored cruisers, there are three distinct features which must be considered, viz: The mechanical, commercial and structural. Regarded from two of these view points it seems as if it would be some time before 'coaling ship' ceases to be an evolution upon the war vessel. While both the naval and mercantile vessels traverse the ocean, there is a wide difference in their construction as well as in the nature of the duty performed and this must be taken into account in designing the motive plant."

The first line of inquiry by the board was the engineering or mechanical feature, involving the possibility of successfully burning oil for steam purposes, and it said that the problem is nearing solution.

Treating of the commercial aspects of the question the report makes the following important statements:

"It may be regarded as a certainty that, except where unusual conditions prevail, the cost of oil for marine purposes will generally be greater than that of coal. The cost may be less for vessels departing from the gulf and California seaports, but the rule will hold elsewhere. While the question of cost should be of secondary importance in military matters, it must be taken into consideration. It is the expense of transportation that will always prevent oil from being a cheap combustible. While it may be put on the tank steamers very cheaply at ports like Point Sabine, its commercial value will be determined by the cost of delivery at commercial and maritime centers."

It is then shown that it must be more expensive and difficult to store oil than coal and that the fumes are dangerous in places like the small bunkers and double bottom spaces aboard ship, where, being heavy, they cannot easily be blown away. But in spite of these and other objections, the board says:

"The bureau has no hesitation, however, in declaring that in view of the results already secured by the liquid fuel board, an installation should be effected without delay on at least a third of the torpedo boats and destroyers. The junior officers of the service are very much interested in the matter and if several boats are equipped entirely with oil fuel appliances, a spirited and keen but friendly rivalry will be created which will result in a material increase in the efficiency of the torpedo boat flotilla. Such an installation would also permit a competition to be established between the boats using coal and those using oil, and this would be another incentive to cause systematic and careful study of the subject upon the part of all connected with the torpedo flotilla."

EXTENSIVE AND STEADY PORTLAND PRODUCTION

President James F. Burns of the Portland company stated yesterday that the work upon the great Battle mountain property is going forward with the usual regularity. A gang of men has commenced framing timbers for raising the collar of the Burns shaft 70 feet. This improvement has been rendered necessary in order to provide additional room for dumping purposes. The Portland dumps are about the largest in the camp and for some time past the company has been threatened with a shortage of dump room. The Portland dumps have never been leased for working over purposes. One of the dumps is so located that the rock can be run back through the ore house and so loaded upon cars at any time when the mill can handle it. The south dumps however will have to be leased. In connection with the raising of the shaft the company is making ready to install the belt conveyors which have been decided upon. This last improvement will greatly expedite the handling of ore and will also effect a considerable saving. The mine at the present time is maintaining an average production of about 8,000 tons per month, an average of nearly 300 tons per day as the Portland does not run on Sunday. Mr. Burns also reports that the mill at Colorado City is working smoothly and is handling the production of the mine. Some difficulty is experienced in getting the fuel oil as fast as it is needed necessitating the occasional use of coal but aside from this inconvenience the mill is working to perfection and is saving the values satisfactorily. Mr. Burns stated that the Portland's pumps are now handling but 700 gallons of water a minute.

OASIS COMPANY [illegible] SECURE GOLD WEDGE DEED

Attorneys for the plaintiff in the case of the Oasis Gold Mining company vs Fred E. Willmer, Herman H. Dunham, Colin A. PROGRESSIVE HILL SCENE OF GREAT ACTIVITY

[illegible] Progressive hill is now the scene of considerable mining activity. The Flyer Hill Mines company is sinking a new shaft there. [illegible] down 70 feet and the Progressive Mining company is sinking two. One of the latter is on the O. K. claim of the City company and has been sunk to a depth of 200 feet. The other is on the [illegible] of the group and is in about 30 feet lying 700 feet north from the Cady shaft. The Progressive shaft on the O. K. is the [illegible] of the hill. Mining [illegible] of this company has recently prepared a geological chart of the section which is of great value. This chart shows about 100 feet of porphyry overlying the blue limestone formation peculiar to the Leadville district. The contacts show the ore thus far to be of low grade, some four or five ounces in silver and a very small showing of gold. The dip of the formation is generally towards the east and two drifts have been started, one east and one west. The west drift will naturally cut the black flint and below this will probably be found iron. The east drift will enable the upper carbonate contact to be explored. The water is not yet a serious problem as the flow is not over 50 gallons per minute and part of that finds a natural outlet. These same contacts have been discovered in the Krouse shaft 1,500 feet east, thus showing their continuity in that direction. The opening of pay values in this section of the camp would prove of great value to Leadville. The present outlook is good for [illegible] being found.

WHAT TO SEE IN NEW YORK.

The New York Press on the New Show Places in New York

What are New York's show places? It would be right hard to enumerate them on short notice. Perhaps the following question and answer may appeal to some. Resident to New Arrival—Now tell me what you would especially like to see. New Arrival—Oh just show me New York. I think that very good. But it is no easy matter to show New York. To our list of show places, whatever they may be, we must add the new waiting room at the Grand Central Station. When strangers go there they cry "Enchanting! 'Grand' Palatial! Prettiest thing I ever saw! Finest thing in the world! 'Ain't it splendid!'" etc. Mr. Daniels has reason for the new elasticity in his step.—("On the Tip of the Tongue" in the New York Press.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.

COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Oct. 24.—The mining stock market showed some slight improvement. In the mines list prices were generally steady, Doctor-Jack Pot being the only loser. Acacia, Elkton and Lexington scored fractional advances. El Paso was stationary at 70. Among the preferred prospects there were more fluctuations, but in this list there were no losers. Bob Lee, Rose Nicol and Sedan scored advances. Beacon Hill-Ajax, Little Bess, Progress, Sunset-Eclipse and Wide Awake gained fractionally. The trading in this list was brisker than for some days. Among the prospects there were only four stocks dealt in. Of these Magnet Rock scored the only advance.

EASTERN MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN & PROVISIONS.

Report of Logan & Bryan to William A. Otis & Co.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Wheat—Liverpool unchanged to ⅛ higher, Paris ⅜ to 1¼ higher, Antwerp ⅛c higher. Although continental markets showed some strength, Liverpool was a marked disappointment and caused considerable liquidation of long wheat. Another rise in San Francisco finally gave the market a temporary strength but that market has never had much of a record as a controller of world's wheat prices and their independent strength is to some extent no doubt due to local conditions. Cash demand is rather slow and the daily clearances at the seaboard seem to indicate a decreasing tendency. The Modern Miller is bearish, stating that crop conditions in the winter wheat section are about perfect, farmers' deliveries increasing and movement to market as large as the railroads can bring. Broomhall cables that the reports from the Argentine crop are favorable and the acreage is 8,000,000 against [illegible] last year. His advices on the Russian crop are also bearish. With these conditions, we see nothing hopeful better than a scalping market. Estimated cars 116.

Corn—Liverpool unchanged. There was some further covering of shorts early and advance of about a cent a bushel, but this was lost before the close. No rain materialized in the corn belt, but snowery weather is still predicted. Kansas City reports about 60 cars new corn with demand poor and prices declining. St. Louis also reports new corn moving in that direction. This corn is being forced into market at materially lower prices than those prevailing here. The holders of December corn in this market are to a considerable extent banking on supposed manipulation. The probability of any large concentrated holdings of December corn does not seem to us clear. The price is a pretty high one and we are inclined to think if we owned any we would let more one else have it. The most bullish feature is the local situation in the large short interest. Estimated cars, 313.

Oats—There was some selling pressure, mainly in sympathy with the weakness in corn and wheat. The oat market is, however, on the whole, a dull one, and few interesting features are noticeable in any respect. Estimated cars, 260.

Provisions—Market was little easier. Weakness in grain made some scattered selling and the buying was mainly through brokers and for the account of local packing interests. The cash situation remains about the same—that is, there is a fair demand and decreasing stocks.

COPPER LETTER.

Reported by Paine, Webber & Co. to William A. Otis & Co.

New York, Oct. 24.—Cotton—The world's visible supply of cotton of all kinds shows an increase this week of only 162,000 bales against 338,000 this week last year. The increase in the visible supply of the American product is 160,000 against an increase of 342,000 last year. This is the result of falling off movement of the crop this week as compared with a year ago. It has been used as a bull factor by the bull clique and some traders in helping along today's recovery in the market. It is expected that Liverpool will recover its loss of today on the opening of their market tomorrow on this and the general discredit placed on Buston's crop estimate of 11,200,000 bales, which we think is at least 400,000 bales too much. The market opened easier on lower Liverpool cables, which showed a decline of six points on spot cotton and 3 to 4 points on futures on opening and 2 to 3 decline at the close compared with yesterday's final prices. The course of prices will from now on probably be governed more by the movement and unless there is a decided increase the market would rule steady and eventually sell much higher. We believe cotton a purchase on any good break. Southern spot markets continue steady.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Report of Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., to William A. Otis & Co.

New York, Oct. 24.—While a firmer tone has been perceptible in the stock market throughout the day, it still continues to be confined to the operations of professional element as is evidenced by the absence of commission business. The feature of the day's trading, the rise in C. F. & I. was generally ascribed to clique trading. The fact that there is an optimistic feeling prevalent as regards the showing of tomorrow's bank statement no doubt influenced speculation to some extent and had the effect of giving a hardening tendency to prices. London's operations were of small volume and entirely unimportant. The money market continues firm with the demand sterling rates somewhat easier. There is no material change in the character of late dealings of the day. Steel securities receiving quite a deal of attention and rather strong in tone. Sterling, $4.86½.

R. G. DUN & CO'S REVIEW

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

No better evidence of industrial and commercial activity is needed than present inadequate transporting facilities. Every form of railroad equipment, from track to rolling stock, has been increased and perfected during the past few years to extent that appeared almost excessive yet the nation's business has more than kept pace. Unseasonably mild weather has retarded retail trade at many points, yet the movement of goods is fully sustained by undiminished preparations for future sales. Distribution delayed by high temperature is not lost, while the agricultural community will profit very materially by the tardiness of frost, increasing their ability to consume the products of factories and mills. Labor is more fully employed than at any recent date, only a few small controversies interrupting.

Money market pressure has been removed, and although securities do not respond, legitimate trade is not retarded by speculation. Earnings of the railroads during October thus far exceed last years' by 4.5 per cent and those of 1900 by 12.0 per cent. Coke is still the vital factor in the iron and steel situation. Both tin and copper advanced sharply, but the former reacted. It is still conspicuous in the cotton goods market that the buyers are slow to anticipate further requirement, apparently expecting cheaper material.

No improvement appears in the demand for men's wear, woolen or worsted fabrics, new orders being for small quantities only and not suggestive of a genuine supplementary demand for spring weights. Silk goods are firm with a scarcity in many directions. Deliveries of footwear on old orders are very heavy, and New England producers are receiving fair contracts for staple lines running into next March.

Failures for the week numbered 223 in the United States against 240 last week, and 22 in Canada, compared with 25 last week.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 24.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Favorable features still dominate the trade and industrial situation. Some reduction in the demand for fall and winter goods at wholesale is noted, but it is shown at the same time that the completed business in drygoods, clothing, shoes, hats, millinery and a host of other lines is in excess of 1901 and preceding years. Business on next spring's account tends rather to expand and a similar tendency is noted in retail business, particularly at the east, where the fear of a coal famine has been removed by the actual resumption of work. It is true that in the northwest retail trade is not meeting anticipations, possibly because of warmer weather, but partially because the farming element is still busily engaged in crop work. The money situation shows little that is unfavorable to general business. Reports as to collections show them as being generally good and in some cases better than a year ago.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending October 23, aggregate 7,060,317 bushels, the largest total for 14 months past, against 5,240,688 last week, 4,062,134 in this week last year and 4,032,076 in 1900.

Wheat exports since July 1 aggregate 85,487,317 bushels against 100,066,054 last season and 60,235,143 in 1900.

Business failures in the United States for the week ended Thursday, October 23, number 194, as against 203 last week and 123 in this week last year.

In Canada for the week, 23 as against 15 last week.

General Teachers' Meeting Was Addressed by Dr. Allin

A most interesting meeting of the city teachers was held yesterday afternoon at 4:30 in the High school auditorium. Dr. Arthur Allin of the State university was the speaker of the afternoon and spoke most entertainingly on "The Newer Phases of Manual Instruction." He expressed himself as being heartily in sympathy with manual training and his belief that it ought to have a place in the schools of today. The following reasons he gave for his own personal view. First, it trains for a trade or profession. We are training the children for life, so we must have a utilitarian view of education. While we do not train for any particular trade, we must train the child in the great ideals. Secondly, it trains not for a particular trade but in fundamental occupations, in which we have the instruments which would be used in all sorts of occupations. There ought to be in each and every school training along these fundamental lines of occupations. The objection is made that with this alone the child does not get hold of the social heritage that comes through other channels. In answer to this he said it gives a motor training and this is what city boys and girls need above all else, something to do with their hands. Habits are imperious masters and so the child must form good habits and motor training does this most [illegible]. Without manual training [illegible] schools we do not get enough of motor training. [illegible] is training of society through society and for society [illegible] subordinated [illegible] of nature and [illegible] for society [illegible] these [illegible] they must [illegible] know enough of psychology to know people and to know [illegible] We must study to know [illegible] mind so that we can [illegible] forces of society. To use them we must have the technique and instruments and the tools. To bring [illegible] up to a high moral plane.

In closing Dr. Allin said these things could be taught in every school. Whether or not we have manual training instruments, supervisors and skilled assistants the teacher of today can do a vast amount of work along this line with the simple instruments and tools of everyday life about her. Dr. Allin's talk was thoroughly helpful and inspiring [illegible] his subject thoroughly, dealing with it from the practical rather than the theoretical standpoint.

At the close of Dr. Allin's talk Superintendent Dietrich spoke a few words [illegible]

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal at Colorado Springs, Colorado, this 17th day of October, A. D. 1902.

W. [illegible] REID,
County Clerk and Recorder in and for El Paso County, Colorado.
(Official Seal.)

OFFERING OF BONDS AND STOCKS OF THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY.

PAYMENTS TO BE MADE IN INSTALLMENTS OR AT SUBSCRIBERS' OPTION.

Denver, Colorado, October 21, 1902.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company has contracted with THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY to build and equip approximately 500 miles of its railroad between Denver, Colorado, and Salt Lake City, Utah. The contract provides for a substantial roadbed, steel rails eighty pounds per yard, and a modern standard passenger and freight rolling stock equipment. Payments under the contract are to be made in the bonds and stock of the Railway Company which are now offered for subscription.

Under the provisions of the construction contract there will be issued by the Railway Company to the Construction Company 40,000 and no more of the first mortgage 4 per cent bonds of the Railway Company and $20,000 par value of its full paid preferred stock and $20,000 par value of its full paid common stock for each mile of main track railroad as it is built, equipped and turned over to the Railway Company for operation.

The authorized capital stock of the Railway Company is $20,000,000, of which $10,000,000 is 4 per cent non-cumulative preferred stock and $10,000,000 is common stock.

The first mortgage of the Railway Company to THE MERCANTILE TRUST COMPANY of New York, provides for an issue of not exceeding $[illegible],500,000 of Fifty Year Four Per Cent Gold Bonds, of which [illegible] the balance of $2,500,000, remaining after the payments to be made under the construction contract, will be held in reserve by the Railway Company.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company will receive through

The Mercantile Trust Company, New York City;
Providence Banking Company, Providence, R. I.
Commercial Trust Company, Philadelphia, Pa., and
The International Trust Company, Denver, Colorado,

applications for subscriptions in $1,000, and multiples of $1,000, to the bonds and stocks of THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY above mentioned until November 16, 1902, after which no further applications will be received.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company reserves the right to scale down or to reject any and all applications.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

The terms of the subscription agreement which is to be signed by the parties whose applications shall be accepted by the undersigned provide that payment shall be called in as money is required by the Construction Company for the purpose of fulfilling its contract with the Railway Company, but that in no event shall the subscribers be required to pay more than 10 per cent of their subscriptions in any one month, but that each subscriber shall have the option to pay the whole amount subscribed at once.

Each subscriber will receive, as provided in the subscription agreement, for each $950 paid, a

$1,000 4 per cent. 50-Year First Mortgage Gold Bond of the Railway Company
$250 par value of the Non-Cumulative Preferred Stock, and $250 par value of the Common Stock of the Railway Company.

Until the bonds and stock of the Railway Company are engraved, executed and received by the Construction Company under the terms of its contract with the Railway Company, the Construction Company will issue to the subscribers, as any payment is made upon their subscriptions, its receipts providing for the payment of interest from the date of such payment at the rate of 4 per cent per annum until the bonds and stock subscribed for are ready for delivery to the subscribers, subject to adjustment to be made as to any interest then accrued upon such bond.

The one half of the common and preferred stock of the Railway Company not offered for subscription will be owned by the Construction Company.

The subscription agreement, a pamphlet containing a description and map of the route, copies of the mortgage securing the bonds, the construction contract and copies of the Engineer's report and estimate and an estimate of earnings and expenses may be inspected at the agencies above enumerated or at the office of the undersigned, where forms of application may be obtained upon request in person or by mail.

Upon careful examination of the traffic conditions of the various railways in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, having regard to the revenue derived from the transportation of ores, coal, lumber, cattle, general merchandise and passengers, it is conservatively estimated that the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific Railway Company will secure as soon as completed, gross earnings of at least $8,000 NET EARNINGS OF $3,200 PER MILE PER ANNUM, and that this revenue will annually increase. This estimate is irrespective of any through travel or freight. The bond issue (exclusive of the $2,500,000 in par value thereof reserved, which it is expected will not be required to be issued) is limited to $40,000 per mile of completed and equipped railroad, upon which the ANNUAL INTEREST CHARGE WILL BE $1,600 or ONLY ONE HALF OF THE ESTIMATED NET EARNINGS.

The above offer is made upon the terms above stated subject to advance or withdrawal without notice, and the undersigned recommends the bonds and stock of THE DENVER, NORTHWESTERN AND PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY as a safe and profitable investment.

The Colorado-Utah Construction Company,
By SYLVESTER T. SMITH,
President.

Denver, Colorado, October, 20, 1902.

TO THE PUBLIC

The Denver, Northwestern and Pacific Railway Company is organized, not to invade the territory of any other railroad company, but to open to development and traffic a region, in Northwestern Colorado and Eastern Utah, larger than the state of Pennsylvania, which is now without a single mile of railroad. This region is rich in deposits of gold, silver, lead, copper and iron ores, and of bituminous and anthracite coal. In it are large forests of timber and broad areas of grazing lands and of lands capable of irrigation and cultivation. There are large streams and an abundance of water on the western slope of the Rocky Mountains in the valleys through which this railway will be operated. The local business developed and to be developed upon the new railway should render the enterprise a profitable one, independent of any through traffic. When the new road is completed the distance over it between Denver and Salt Lake City will be more than one hundred miles shorter than by any other route, and the grades and alignment upon this railway will be more favorable than upon any other railway crossing the Continental Divide in Colorado.

The Denver, Northwestern and Pacific Railway Company,
By DAVID H. MOFFAT,
President.

Subscriptions will be received by

THE INTERNATIONAL TRUST COMPANY,

Equitable Building, DENVER, COLO.

LEGAL NOTICES

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Sedan Gold Mining company will be held at the office of the company, with William A. Otis & Co., Mining Exchange building, Colorado Springs, Colo., on Saturday, November 22, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m.

This meeting has been called for the purpose of considering the advisability of empowering and directing the board of directors of the company to transfer and sell all of the company's property, in consideration of the release and assumption by the purchaser of the entire outstanding indebtedness of the company.

Books for the transfer of stock will close on Tuesday, November 18, 1902, at 4 o'clock p. m. and reopen after the final adjournment of the meeting.

William P. Sargeant, Secretary.

Colorado Springs, Colo., October 21, 1902.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNEE.
Notice is hereby given that on the 4th day of October, 1902, J. L. Harbaugh of Colorado Springs, Colo., made an assignment under the laws of Colorado, of all his property to the undersigned, J. A. Voorhees as assignee. That the estimated aggregate value of the property of said assignor is five thousand, one hundred and seventy-nine dollars and twenty-five cents ($5,179.25), and the estimated amount of the liabilities of the said J. L. Harbaugh is eight thousand two hundred and seventy-three dollars and thirty-five cents ($8,273.35).
All creditors of said J. L. Harbaugh are hereby notified to present their claims to me, as assignee, within three months from the 15th day of October, 1902.
J. A. Voorhees, Assignee.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT.
In the matter of the estate of John W. Grimoldby, deceased.
Notice is hereby given that on Monday, the tenth (10th) day of November, A. D. 1902, being one of the regular days of the November term of the county court of El Paso county, in the state of Colorado, I, Emma Grimoldby, administratrix of said estate, will appear before the judge of said court, present my final settlement as such administratrix, pray the approval of the same, and will then apply to be discharged as such administratrix. At which time and place any person in interest may appear and present objections to the same if any there be.
Dated at Colorado Springs, Colo., October 10, 1902. Emma Grimoldby, Administratrix of the estate of John W. Grimoldby.
Richard Lea Kennedy, Attorney.
First publication October 11.
Last publication November 1.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of The Northwestern Improvement company for the election of directors and such other business as may come before the meeting, will be held at the office of John E. Lundstrom, at Colorado Springs, Colo., on the third (3d) day of November, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m.
Channing Burns, Secretary.

To the Stockholders of the Commonwealth Mining and Milling Company:
You will please take notice that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Commonwealth Mining and Milling company will be held on the 10th day of November, 1902, at the hour of 4 p. m., at the office of the company situated at room 75, Hagerman building, Colorado Springs, Colorado, for the purpose of considering the following proposed amendments to the articles of incorporation of the said company, viz:
1. To amend said articles of incorporation by reducing the number of directors of the company from five to three.
2. To amend said articles of incorporation by the insertion of a provision to the effect that meetings of the directors of the company may after such date be held in the city of Decatur, in the state of Illinois, instead of in the city of Colorado Springs or elsewhere in the state of Colorado.
W. M. Lewis, President.

BIDS FOR OTERO CANAL CONSTRUCTION.
Sealed bids will be received until 10 o'clock a. m. November 1, 1902, by the Otero Irrigation district for the excavation of about 350,000 cubic yards of earth and rock along the line of the Otero canal, and for the construction of timber dam across the Arkansas river, for about 750 lineal feet of wooden pipe line and for such other structures as may be determined upon. Bids to give price per cubic yard of excavation and per 1,000 board measure. Bids will be received for all or any part of the above work; and are solicited both to be paid in cash or in bonds of the said district. Plans and specifications are on file and may be seen in the office of the board of directors, which is at the office of the secretary, M. F. Miller, or at the office of the chief engineer, P. T. Lewis, at La Junta, Colo. The board of directors hereby reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
M. F. Miller, Secretary.

SPECIAL STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.
A special meeting of the stockholders of the Morning Star Gold Mining company is called by resolution of the board of directors, as provided by art. 3, sec. 4, of the by-laws of the company, for Monday, the 27th day of October, 1902, at 12 o'clock noon, at the offices of the company, 60 Postoffice building, Colorado Springs, Colo.
The object of said meeting is to ratify, or annul, and take all proper action concerning an option-contract granted by your directors on the 17th day of September, 1902, to Mr. C. C. Heming. The terms of said option-contract being as follows, to-wit:
An option-contract to sell all the real estate owned by the company for the sum fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), payable on or before December 15, 1902. Mr. Heming deposited in escrow, together with the contract and deed, a certified check for $2,000.00 to be paid at any time prior to said December 15, 1902, when a valid meeting of the stockholders shall have ratified the contract, or withdrawn from escrow if not ratified. Furthermore, if the option-contract is ratified by the stockholders, said $2,000.00 is to be applied to the purchase price, in case of a sale, or retained in the treasury of the company as liquidated damages in case no sale is made.
Books for the transfer of stock will close at 5 o'clock on Wednesday, the 22d day of October, 1902, and reopen three days after the final adjournment of said meeting.
If you cannot be present at the meeting please send your proxy to anybody attending the meeting or to the following directors: H. H. Barbee, F. L. Ballard, J. D. Ford or F. H. Gray, or either of them.
H. H. Barbee, President.
C. N. Smith, Secretary.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS.
Notice is hereby given that the board of directors of the Otero Irrigation district has declared its intention to sell the entire issue of three hundred thousand dollars of bonds of said district and that sealed proposals will be received by the board at their office in La Junta, Colo., for the purchase of said bonds until the 1st day of November, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m.
The said bonds run from 11 years to 20 years and draw interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, have been duly authorized by vote of said district, in accordance with the laws relating to irrigation districts, and all the real property of said district is liable to assessment for the payment of both interest and principal of said bonds.
The board reserves the right to reject all bids. All bids should be addressed to the undersigned, M. F. Miller, Secretary the Otero Irrigation District, La Junta, Colo.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.
Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 18, 1902.
Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between G. W. Curtis and C. E. Tyler, under the firm name of Curtis & Tyler, has been dissolved by mutual consent, and that C. E. Tyler will continue the business and will pay the debts of the firm and collect all bills.
(Signed.)

WEATHER FORECAST.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Forecast for Colorado: Rain and colder Saturday; Sunday fair.

Satisfied people wear Ashby's spectacles.

PLAZA HOTEL—Reduced rates for winter. J. M. Ward, manager.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, 828 E. Monument street, a son.

NOTARIAL BOND—John M. Harden filed his notarial bond with the county clerk yesterday.

Chrysanthemums—Get the chrysanthemums at the Crump greenhouse, 509 E. Columbia st. Telephone 500. Come and inspect them.

NO MOTIONS—No motions will be heard in the district court Monday. Judge Cunningham will be present to hear criminal cases.

GOLF TODAY—The Town and Gown Golf club will hold an 18-hole handicap on their links Saturday afternoon. Players may select their own partners. Entrance fee one Haskell ball.

MELBBY CLAIM—Charles August Larson has filed a location certificate with the county clerk on the Melbby claim in the Pike's Peak district.

HEARING MONDAY—Andy Will, charged with stealing $15 from L. M. Stanko, will have a hearing before Justice McClelland Monday morning.

RODE ON THE WALK—N. W. Terrill was arrested by Officer Donovan yesterday on a charge of riding his wheel on sidewalks. He was notified to appear in police court.

DIPSOMANIAC FINED—James Muldoon, whom Sergeant McNew says is troubled with "dipsomania," was fined $10 in police court yesterday and was committed. Dipsomania is a scientific name for periodic drunkenness.

CONTRACT FILED—A contract and option between Mary T. Hatch and James E. Gregg was filed with the county clerk yesterday showing that a portion of a price fixed at $2,000 for land in section 29, township 14, range 67 has been paid.

DEED FILED—W. R. Jones has transferred to Dan Strchel, by virtue of a warranty deed filed with the county clerk, land in section 33, township 16, range 67. The consideration named is nominal but stamps indicate that it was over $1,000.

FILED DEMURRER—Attorneys for the defendants in the case of Jerome E. Ferree vs. Clarence Edsall et al. filed a demurrer in the district court yesterday, asserting that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause for action.

If you are looking for a friend about noon, you will find him at luncheon at the Alta Vista Cafe.

P. E. O.—The regular meeting of the P. E. O.'s will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Jennie C. Rardoulet, 730 North Weber street, instead of with Mrs. Morrison, as announced in the year book. All visiting P. E. O.'s are cordially invited to be present.

THEFTS REPORTED—J. Sutter reported to the police the theft of a silver watch from his home, 309 West Kiowa street. It was taken from a vest hanging on a bedpost in his room. M. S. Door reports the theft of a laprobe from a carriage while it was standing in front of a residence on Mill street.

ON PLUMBERS' LIEN—St. John Brothers yesterday filed suit in the district court against Lee C. Matthews, the Columbia Savings and Loan association, T. J. Zollars, trustee, Isaac Cahn, the John M. Cox Hardware company, Charles Duffrey and George Musser, public trustee, for $322.77, on a lien for plumbing work.

The popular thing to do at present is to take your Sunday evening dinner at the Alta Vista Cafe.

JUDGES EXCHANGE—Judge Cunningham returns to Pueblo today where he is engaged in trying cases for Judge Voorhees who is sitting for him at Cripple Creek. Judge Cunningham heard the trial in Pueblo of Charles Ferguson, charged with stealing a wheel from Charles Crainer on September 13. Crainer pleaded guilty but sentence was not passed. Judge Voorhees is hearing the famous Glover case at Cripple Creek for Judge Cunningham.

ANNUAL MEETING—The annual meeting of the subscribing members of the Associated Charities of Colorado Springs will be held at the Lutheran church, corner of Platte avenue and Weber street, on Monday next, October 27, at 4 p. m., when the full report for the past year will be presented, and directors to fill vacancies will be elected.

Reynier's Kid Gloves

Grand Prix, Paris, 1900

Our best knowledge and judgment has been used for your benefit in this Kid Glove matter. About a year ago we found that the kid gloves which we were then selling did not give the satisfaction which you had a right to expect. After examining many makes, we decided that the Reynier's Kid Gloves were the best and at once secured the sole agency for this city. We have had no reason to regret our choice, as our Kid Glove sales have more than doubled in the last nine months. Neither do we know of any customer who has had cause to regret the purchase of Reynier's Kid Gloves, but we do know of many who highly commend their excellence.

Three Prices—Three Qualities, and each one better than you'll get elsewhere at the same price.

Reynier's "Leila" Kid Glove, $1.00 a pair

You cannot buy a better fitting, wearing or appearing glove in this city for $1.25. All the new fall colors, forty different shades.

Reynier's "Diamant" Kid Glove, $1.50 a pair

The best $1.50 glove sold anywhere. Made in all the new fall styles, Paris Point embroidery, three clasps.

Reynier's "Reynier" Kid Glove, $2.00 a pair

The best glove made at any price. Manufactured from the finest selected French Kid Skin and comes in all the latest styles and colors, three clasps and one-piece thumb.

[illegible] DEFENDS STRATTON'S NAME

Byron C. Logan of Indianapolis Says Richard Work Made Many Mistakes in His Reference to the Early Life of the Late Colorado Springs Millionaire---From a Boyhood Friend.

Byron C Logan of Indianapolis a lifelong friend of the late Winfield Scott Stratton and to whom the multimillionaire bequeathed $10 000 has written a strong letter to Carl S Chamberlin Mr Stratton's nephew and one of the executors of the will in which he takes occasion to refute the statements of Richard Work which appeared in a Denver paper recently.

Since the publication of that letter which painted Mr. Stratton's early career in dark colors many of his old friends have come forward to enter protest to this defamation of the dead and to indignantly deny the statements made by Work George Pfau a resident since 1856 of Jeffersonville Ind Mr Stratton's boyhood home was the first an interview with him appearing in the Gazette last Sunday James Parker had a statement in the Gazette Monday, and now Mr Logan adds a word

Mr Logan was perhaps the most intimate friend Mr Stratton had in his lifetime He grew up with the millionaire and the bequest made to him shows in what esteem the dead man held him It is understood that the $10 000 was intended by Mr Stratton for the education of Mr Logan's son and he had so intimated to Mr Logan before his death It is to be used for that purpose The letter to Mr Chamberlin from Mr Logan is as follows

Indianapolis Ind, Oct 18 1902

Dear Mr Carl S Chamberlin

I notice an article in the Denver Post of October 13, headlines reading 'Stratton's Early Life in His Indiana Town' written by Richard Work of Jeffersonville, Ind

I thought possibly you had seen the paper of that date and the article so I hasten to inform you that your uncle Winfield was not the sort of young man that Mr Work would have the public think he was Mr. Winfield Stratton and I were schoolmates and playmates from the time we were three years old until we were 18 years of age After that time we met frequently, but not nightly as formerly.

I can assure you that W. S Stratton, as a boy and young man, was truthful, honest industrious kind, sober and obliging and was in no sense a drunkard or a bummer, as the Jeffersonville article would have the public believe.

The Jeffersonville article states that Win Stratton left Jeffersonville 20 years ago. The truth is he left 34 years ago in 1868. He was then 20 years old He had a stepmother and they did not always agree so he left home to avoid any unpleasantness with his father. He was no bleer-eyed sot, nor were his associates the [illegible] gang [illegible] the whisky [illegible] I am not claiming that Mr Stratton was a [illegible] Jeffersonville was not [illegible] throughout the world in having a superfluity of that class of young men but W S Stratton was head and shoulders above a large number of young men who moved in the upper tendom Mr Stratton was a carpenter and as such he stood at the head of the list notwithstanding Mr Work's opinion to the contrary

The article states that Mr Stratton was nearly 40 years of age, he was a [illegible] friendless and poorly educated I attended school with him and I think he had the brightest intellect of any one I have ever seen He was far above the average and stood at the head of what was then known as the high school in southern Indiana Stratton was not of a sour and surly disposition No one was more beloved by his schoolmates than Winfield and no man loved his friends better nor would do more for one than W S Stratton

The Jeffersonville article says that the opinion of the people was that Win Stratton was a disgrace to his family that his parents attended the fashionable Presbyterian church while Win Stratton was never seen inside of it On the contrary his parents were members of the Christian church, and Winfield was a member of the same church in good and regular standing, and was immersed in the Ohio river Winfield Stratton was a member of the Knights of Pythias Hope lodge No 13 He was dropped for non payment of dues while in the west but was reinstated in 1894 while on a visit to his father and sister If he had been as bad as Mr Work would have the public believe he could not have been reinstated in the order as Hope lodge was composed of the elite of the city

The writer of this letter visited Winfield at his father's home in 1884 and the sweet kindly smile that played upon his boyish face at that time will never be erased from my memory The Jeffersonville article states that Win Stratton set up ten pins for drink I do not believe that there is a person in Jeffersonville that believes one word of that Stratton was as proud as Lucifer, and I think he would have died before he would set up pins or sponge for drink Mr Work states that Myron Stratton was a little old, bent gray haired man and that Winfield blacked his eye Mr Myron Stratton was a large fine looking man straight as an arrow and could have whipped his son with one hand So that should dispose of that part of the charge Winfield did not have to ask his father for money as he commanded the best wages paid in the town for carpenters He was a natural mechanic from boyhood up and as he grew to manhood he continued to improve So when he left Jefferson, he was second to none as a carpenter.

His father was not a poor man by any means When he died he left $16 000 to be divided among five, and Winfield's share was $3,000, which he used to educate himself as a mining engineer

I was called to Colorado Springs by invitation from Winfield, in 1890, which I gladly accepted. I was royally entertained at his house for almost three weeks He offered me a situation at a good salary, which I declined for the reason that it was not convenient to leave Indianapolis at that time I received a fine gold watch from him the cases of which are made of gold from the famous Independence mine I also carried home with me two $100 bills a present from my friend Mr Stratton stated at that time that he intended to educate my boy when the boy grew up I never doubted it for one moment as Winfield never broke a promise Therefore I was not greatly surprised when informed that I was mentioned in the will for $10 000

Now to sum it all up I think I discover a tinge of disappointment in the Jeffersonville article because a few millions of Mr Stratton's wealth did not find its way to Jeffersonville in his will

Mr Work says that Win Stratton was forgotten for ten years If people forgot him when he was poor, why should he remember them when he was rich? He had many friends in the west who loved him for his honesty and [illegible] He loved Colorado Springs [illegible] loved no other place on earth How could he love those who had turned their backs on him when he was toiling for his daily bread The Jeffersonville article in my opinion is not the true American ring In the United States a public benefactor is open to criticism while living, but when the soul is turned to God who gave it all criticism should be stopped and the faults (if there are any) should be interred with his bones How many of our generation that are living would like to have a search light turned on their former actions especially when they were between the ages of 18 and 35 years? I think Mr Work would rather let bygones be bygones

I remain as ever truly yours

Byron C Logan

STUDENT RIOT QUELLED BY SUPREME COURT JUSTICE

By Associated Press

Washington Oct [illegible]—Justice Harlan of the U S supreme court who is a member of the faculty of the Columbia university law school in this city last night interfered and prevented a class fight between the freshmen and sophomores Justice Harlan is a giant in stature and although 69 years of age he is still vigorous and [illegible] golf being one of his daily exercises The youngsters were no match for him when he entered the arena The anticipated contest was the result of the announcement of the freshmen class that it would hold its first meeting last night in Jurisprudence hall This announcement acted as a suggestive challenge to the sophomores to break up the meeting if possible After the regular lecture of the evening the first year men undertook to open their meeting when the sophomores made a charge against the door of the hall At this point Justice Harlan appeared and in a commanding voice ordered the combat to cease The sophomores paused for a moment but were evidently not disposed to obey the order for they immediately began a second assault

It was then that the eminent jurist took a personal hand in the fray He reached the heads of the assaulting party and seizing the leader of the forces by the collar and dragged him from the pile The jurist then directed the second year men to disperse with the desired effect.

HEARING [illegible] NORTHERN SECURITIES [illegible]

By Associated Press

St Paul Minn Oct [illegible]—With hearing in this city of Special Examiner F G Ingersoll appointed to take testimony in the suit of the United States against the Northern Securities company the Great Northern road and the Northern Pacific Railway company and others under the Sherman anti-trust law was concluded late this afternoon and an adjournment taken to New York Nov 10 next when the examination of several witnesses [illegible] will begin The hearing in this city [illegible] days President Hill of the Great Northern Harris of the Burlington and Mellen of the Northern Pacific being the principal witnesses The other witnesses were Col W P Clough vice president and counsel of the Northern Securities company and [illegible] Weyerhaeuser the big lumber man

Today's witnesses were Colonel Clough and President Mellen but nearly the entire day was devoted to the former the government attorneys paying particular attention to the matter of rates and joint tariffs various schedules of tariffs having been introduced into the record

Colonel Clough was on the stand at the afternoon session Assistant Attorney General Beck asking the reason why the Northern Securities company had been incorporated in New Jersey Colonel Clough explained that it was because the corporation laws of that state had been judicially passed on interpreted and their validity established, while the laws of New York under which it was at one time thought possible to incorporate and which are similar to the New Jersey statutes were new laws and had not yet been sustained by the courts He denied that the Northern Pacific stockholders had been consulted before the articles of the Northern Securities company were filed but admitted that J Pierpont Morgan a large holder of Northern Pacific and D Willis James and other holders in both roads had been consulted before arrangements were fitted and consented to put their stock in a home company Much time was given to questions to increase the capital stock of the Great Northern all of which Colonel Clough said had been sold at par to stockholders for cash or its equivalent and he insisted that the $92 0 0 000 par value of Great Northern stock bought by the Securities company represented a genuine valuation and not any inflated valuation The securities company held proxies for all Northern Pacific and Great Northern stock deposited He admitted that this was in both cases a majority and that there was nothing to prevent the election of identical boards of directors of both roads except the laws of the country which positively forbid such

The rates given in the various documents presented today were gone over at considerable length, Mr Day, attorney for the interstate commerce commission waiting to have various points in the schedules more clearly stated in the records Col Clough said that since he had gone east his connection with the Great Northern had been completely severed and he had nothing whatever to do with the tariffs on either that road or the Northern Pacific, although he was now a director of the latter road

C S Mellen president of the Northern Pacific railway was sworn and examined by C W Bunn, general counsel for that corporation Mr Mellen had been president and director of the Northern Pacific since August 1897, and he stated positively that his company had not as an organization taken any part in the formation of the Northern Securities company He believed that the purchase of the Burlington had promoted commerce having opened wider markets to the different roads The largest single article of traffic is lumber minerals being the next largest in shipments and live stock shipments being very heavy He regarded the lumber business secured for the Northern Pacific and Burlington jointly as business made Joint tariffs made it a possibility to secure such shipments, but they could never secure a permanent and positive business and might at any time be cancelled by the whims of management of any one party to the joint traffic He said his road gave no orders to the Burlington that he knew of no authority for issuing order to the officials of that line except the board of directors The simple fact of a common ownership tended to greater stability and better feeling between the officials of the various lines and thereby promoted business

There being no other witnesses ready and the next witnesses being mostly easily accessible in New York the hearing was adjourned to that city November 10 next

The examination of J. N Saunders, which had been expected today was deferred until such time as counsel may [illegible]

MRS. FROTHINGHAM-ANDERSON [illegible]

Career of Former New York Society Woman Whose Marriage to a Tailor in This City Caused Big Sensation Has Come to a Close.

The career of Mrs Frothingham-Anderson of New York, who took 'Anderson' as a part of her name by her marriage in this city to a tailor from Chicago named J T Anderson whose strong qualities in the estimation of his wife were that he was pleasant and could play tunes on a guitar has come to a close

Her death occurred in Salt Lake City several days ago and the body passed through this city bound for New York, accompanied by Mrs Bedloe, mother of the deceased several days ago It is said that it was in a coffin that cost $1 000, purchased by Mrs Frothingham-Anderson five weeks before her death

The incidents of her marriage here are well remembered She came to Colorado Springs for the benefit of her health and while here became acquainted with J T Anderson of Chicago, a tailor by trade, who made himself agreeable to the New York invalid by many little attentions, among them the much-talked-of guitar serenades.

After the marriage to Mr Anderson, Mrs Frothingham continued to reside here and it is said that the two were fairly happy in each other's company up to about two months ago, when a difference took place that resulted in the wife going to Salt Lake and the husband it is said, to Denver Mrs. Frothingham-Anderson suffered a relapse in Salt Lake, of a weakness for drugs that were to her undoing, and for a number of weeks she realized fully that she was face to face with death and that her time was short at best

She is said to have gone to a Salt Lake undertaker five weeks ago and to have purchased a coffin worth $1,000, to be used in transporting her remains to New York after her death. Her mother, Mrs. Bedloe, was with her at her death and accompanied her remains east

The young woman left considerable wealth her will bequeathing it all to her mother It is understood that she converted all available cash into diamonds and presented them to Mrs Bedloe

Anderson has not been heard from here since Mrs Frothingham went to Salt Lake

CLOSE OF THE REMARKABLE CONVENTION OF CHRISTIANS

By Associated Press

Omaha Oct. 23—With tonight's session of the convention of the Disciples of Christ ended one of the most enthusiastic and best attended religious conventions ever held Over 7 000 delegates were registered and probably 5,000 other strangers came to the city

Probably no session was attended by less than 2 000 and several meetings saw from 10 000 to 12 000 persons gathered at the Coliseum

In his address today George F Hall said it was the largest convention in the history of the denomination

A most animated discussion which at times had a smack of bitterness, was precipitated during the morning session by Dr B B. Tyler of Denver president of the International Sunday School association, who answered the charge made by Simpson Ely of Minnesota that on Tuesday evening a resolution had been 'railroaded' through approving the church federation schemes He expressed his dissatisfaction with the charge delivering an address in which he stood squarely for federation In his introductory remarks Dr Tyler made reference to J. A Lord editor of a denominational paper and Simpson Ely, speaking of their attempt to defeat the resolution made this startling statement

"You may damn me or not I would rather be damned by some men than saved by them," and in defending his position on the question of Christian union said that 'to voluntarily remain divided is voluntarily to remain in sin Our divisions hinder the work of evangelization at home and abroad '

Among the papers read at the morning missionary session was one by Secretary C J Ryder, who stated that the income from the churches this year was [illegible] less than the average for the last [illegible] years Sunday schools show an increase of $04 Endeavor societies have increased their gifts $200 This shows an increase from individuals of $7 073 above the average for the last three years The total number of contributing churches last year was 1,906 and of non-contributing churches 2 546 The great body of living givers put into the treasury last year $[illegible] During the 11 years since 1888 there has been a loss on gifts from the living of $14 [illegible] In addition to this the American Missionary association on the adoption of a principle sacrificed government assistance to the amount of $1[illegible]68 The Indian work has greatly suffered from this loss Twenty per cent increase in donations also means $200,000

The afternoon session was devoted to woman's work in the missions The annual report of the bureau of woman's work by Miss D E Emerson of New York attracted attention

...STRATTON ESTATE ...
...BOW ...E W...

In Possession of Persons None of Whom is Under Bond to Probate Court.

(NO) PROPERTY SCHEDULE WAS EVER FILED

No Orders of Court for Expenditure of Money Asked.—Judge Seeds Will Probably Send Matter Back to Judge Orr Today for New Appointees.

It is now five weeks since the will of Winfield Scott Stratton was made public and filed for probate and although an estate of $9,000,000 is involved in which the state of Colorado is directly interested as beneficiary to the extent of several thousand dollars and the people of the state as indirect beneficiaries in the Stratton home to the extent of several million dollars yet there is no person in charge of such estate or any part of it as the legal representative of the probate court and no person is under bond for one dime to look after the property or the enormous income therefrom.

The condition of affairs relative to the Stratton estate is really startling and is without a parallel in the probate history of Colorado.

No person has as yet filed a schedule of the property with the court. No person has as yet asked permission of the court to expend a dollar for any purpose and this too when the daily receipts from Mr Stratton's property must exceed $1,000 per day and the daily expenditure is almost as much and when improvements of all kinds are absolutely necessary to keep the estate in proper condition.

The executors are paying no attention to the estate so far as a tive management is concerned. They have never qualified and are not yet under bond having been prevented from qualifying by the contest of the will. Mr Dines has been out of the state for 10 days. Dr Rice is attending to his regular business and Mr Chamberlin it is said is arranging for college.

The administrators to collect have been refused the possession of the property and their title to the same has been dragging along for nearly four weeks in the district court for counsel on both sides seem always agreed on repeated and constant continuances.

Meanwhile citizens are asking themselves and each other what it all means and what is in the wind that is permitting this vast estate to be operated, controlled and managed by strangers to the will and persons who are under no bonds for the faithful performance of their duties or the accounting of funds.

Ever since Mr Stratton died that attempt has been made by outsiders to conduct the affairs relating to his estate differently from the rules and laws laid down for the management of any other estate. But the present plan of allowing the estate to be in the hands of non-official persons and persons not accountable to the probate court and not filing statements or asking for court orders is really quite startling to the people of a well ordered community.

On September 20 the executors named in the will filed a protest against the administrators to collect and refused to deliver the property to them. In their protest the executors alleged fraud and conspiracy on the part of the administrators to collect and do not need them in a most unmeasured terms. On September 30 by agreement of counsel for executors and administrators the hearing on the charge of conspiracy and to protest against the administrators to collect was removed to the district court. There it has remained ever since and there it bids fair to remain for a long time yet unless Judge Seeds peremptorily orders immediate hearing in the interest of the estate, which is just now like a ship at sea loaded with a valuable cargo but without rudder or sail or responsible officers and with many piratical barks hovering near by.

For the past three weeks the attorneys for the administrators to collect the attorneys for the contestant of the will and the attorneys for the executors have been attempting to agree upon a new set of administrators to collect but thus far they seem to have failed. It is reported that Judge Orr has told them he would appoint Mr Dines and Dr Rice two of the executors and Mr Sharp the cashier of the Exchange National bank but this arrangement does not seem to have pleased all of the parties.

It is reported that the present administrators to collect wish one of their number appointed to represent them but that Judge Orr has said that if any charges are to be made he wishes to appoint a man like Mr Sharp to represent the interests of the people of Colorado Springs and that he will appoint the two executors to represent the interests of the will.

It is even reported that the executors are now willing to accept one of the two administrators to collect that they recently so strongly denounced as conspirators and beneficiaries of fraud corruption and collusion.

Meantime the community is wondering at the latest plan between administrators to collect and executors was after all only a ham... battle and whether there really was blood on the face of the moon or only ... ridy ... rhetoric and apparent wrath.

No other explanation seems plausible for the ridiculous condition of affairs than that some sort of lamb-like confidence of alleged conspirators with fraudulent ... at ... present time.

When Judge Seeds ... the matter ... will ... today inside the matter ... that ... and the ... present ... condition ... of affairs and if he decides that Judge Orr's appointments were premature having been made before the contest was filed the matter will go back to Judge Orr for the immediate appointment of new administrators to collect to at once take possession of the estate and the character of men designated by Judge Orr as his new appointees will receive the approval of the community.

If Judge Seeds upholds the legality of Judge Orr's appointees they will be entitled to immediate possession of the estate under their bonds already given.

The matter comes up before Judge Seeds for hearing at 10 this morning.

MAYOR BAKER OF FT. COLLINS IS HERE FOR VACATION REST

Mayor F. R. Baker and wife of Fort Collins are visiting in the city and are stopping at the Alamo. Mr and Mrs Baker are spending a few days on a short vacation trip. Mr Baker was down during the irrigation congress as a delegate from Fort Collins.

He reports the prospects for a large and successful culture of sugar beets in and around Fort Collins to be very bright and the people of that section are greatly pleased over the fact that ground has already been broken for the erection of a large factory for the manufacture of beet sugar. The farmers of the section said Mr Baker are all taking up with the proposition as offered by the company and we soon expect to have one of the largest factories in the state.

GUINN FUNERAL WILL TAKE PLACE TOMORROW

The funeral services over the remains of Prof R T Guinn who died at St Francis hospital Wednesday morning will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the undertaking parlors of Hallet & Baker. Interment being made at Evergreen cemetery.

Mr C I Hemming of the El Paso National bank who was appointed administrator of Prof Guinn's estate valued at $2,000 has been unable to locate any of the immediate relatives of the deceased. A lady in Abingdon Ill who is supposed to be a cousin of Prof Guinn wired that the burial should be made in this city but further than that no instructions were given.

Friends of the deceased are invited to be present at the funeral services this afternoon.

SHELDON CAUGHT LOON AT PROSPECT LAKE

L. A. Sheldon a caretaker at Prospect lake brought to the city yesterday a fine specimen of the loon species which he captured at the lake. The bird is one of the handsomest specimens of its kind ever seen in the city and measured about four feet between the tips of its wings and is about three and one half feet high. Mr Sheldon noticed the bird in the rushes that surround the lake and when he went after it in a boat the loon dived under the water. Mr Sheldon succeeded in hitting it with an oar and captured it. He took the bird to Aiken's museum and will have it mounted.

WALTER WYCKOFF SPOKE TO LARGE AUDIENCE

Prof Walter A Wyckoff was greeted by a large audience at Perkins hall last night when he lectured on the subject of "The Industrial Revolution in England." The lecture was given under the auspices of the Apollonian society of the college and the students as well a large number of others were in attendance. Prof Wyckoff is a well known sociologist and economist and is also a member of the Princeton university faculty.

...WILSON ...OKE ON Socialist Principles

An audience of about 700 people assembled at Temple theater last night to listen to an address on the principles of the Socialist party by Rev J Stitt Wilson the noted student of social conditions in this country and Europe. The address was given under the auspices of the local Socialist club who are to hold a series of three meetings at Temple theater of which the meeting last night was the opening. Present at the meeting last night many expressed themselves to be well pleased with the points as brought out by Mr Wilson and the many who were present at the meeting out of curiosity were given a fair idea by Mr Wilson of the principles of the party of which he is a great advocate. While the meeting was even larger than the local members anticipated, they fee confident that those of tonight and tomorrow night will be characterized by even a larger attendance.

In opening his speech the speaker expressed his satisfaction that he had three nights to address the people of this city on the social problem. The subject he said was large and complex and required more than one night for adequate treatment.

Proceeding he indicated the steps through which all social revolution and reconstruction pass. First, a frank criticism of existing wrongs, second the search for and discovery of the fundamental cause of the varied wrongs third the enunciation of the principles that will meet and solve the injustice and lastly the administration of the new principle by the men elected on that principle.

"The first thing with which you will all agree with me is the supreme purpose of Socialism. You may disagree with our principles and program but you will agree with our purpose. For our purpose is to make the social and economic conditions such that every man, woman and child may live the highest and completest human life. This is impossible under the present competitive and trust system. The present system robs men of the product of their toil, sets man against man in unbrotherly strife, and limits the possibilities of human unfoldment."

At this point the speaker illustrated his point by the planting of a bulb in the black, rich soil and having it well watered and placed in the sunshine. "Then it will bloom," said he. "So men women and children are largely in the bulb state, as yet, and we must guarantee the physical conditions of existence. We must solve this bread and butter question. Then shall we see men bloom into that quality of life that is truly human.

"There have been great preparations in the the nineteenth century, which make possible great realizations for humanity in the twentieth century. These preparations make it impossible for the present competitive and trust system to stay on the earth.

The first of these great preparations was the introduction of machinery—the most powerful factor in civilization. And what shall we now do with this titanic equipment. The question before us is shall a few own this tremendous power and use it for private profit or shall the people own it and administer it for the common good. If the former then machinery means slavery for the people of the twentieth century. If the latter then the mighty mechanism of civilization can be made our slave and heavy burdens lifted from the back of the race. Machinery made the nineteenth century. It will unmake the twentieth unless the whole people determine its use and ownership.

The second great preparation of the last century was the development of the sense of the sacredness of human life, the ethical impulse and we have this to say that either Christianity as a practical vital living reality will have to keep quiet and be relegated to Sunday soothsayings and glittering generalities or else the present injustices of the trust system and competitive strife will have to be destroyed. One or the other must go.

Again the program of trades unionism which has been one of the chief historical factors of the last century must culminate in a vast comprehensive political program for the working classes. And that program must be Socialism as we shall see later in these addresses."

The speaker closed the address by showing the tremendous power of the ballot in the hands of the American people. All wrongs, all injustices can be righted by agitation, education organization and political action.

The subject tonight is "The Game of Civilization, Who Are the Winners."

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS FIELDS ANNOUNCED AT TEA YESTERDAY

Mrs Frank H Pettingell was the guest of honor at a tea given by Miss Oma Fields yesterday from 4 until 6 p m. The pretty affair was rendered notable from the fact that Miss Fields' engagement to Joseph Allison Steinmetz of Philadelphia was announced. Although the date of the marriage has not been set, it is probable that it will occur this winter.

Miss Fields was the guest of Mrs Pettingell for some time the past summer and the tea was intended as a pretty compliment to her hostess as well as to formally announce what had already become known to Miss Fields' relatives and intimate friends.

The assisting ladies were those of Miss Fields' home together with Mrs J H Hobbs, Mrs William O'Brien, Mrs C C Hamlin, Miss Fursman, Miss Cordell and others.

THE HOME RULE AMENDMENT.

ONE of the most important of proposed legislative reforms and one most urgently needed in this state, is embodied in what is known as the "Home Rule for Cities" amendment. This was introduced in the assembly by Senator Rush and it is also designated as the Rush amendment.

Under the present system, which has been in force for some 12 years, the Denver city government is controlled by the governor of the state. The employes of the fire and police departments are appointed by a fire and police board, and the members of this board are selected by the governor.

When the present system was adopted the theory prevailed that by putting the control of the city police department in the hands of the governor it would result in removing it from the harmful influences of local politics.

But the result has shown that this was only jumping from the frying pan into the fire. Three Democratic governors of the state, two Republican and one Populist governor have been wrecked in their political careers upon the Denver fire and police board. Instead of clearing city politics it has made them worse than they ever were before, and it has led to the creation of a state political ring and machine which has a worse record and is responsible for more fraud, corruption and violation of public interests than was ever laid to the charge of a Denver city ring.

Denver has had worse government than ever before and it has been made impossible for the citizens of that city and the city officers elected by them to correct the evils from which they have suffered. For instance at the present time the mayor and other city officers are Republicans, and they are giving the people good service but it is utterly impossible for them to control the acts of the officers and men of the police department or of the fire department and the police magistrate is also wholly independent of their control. The result is that the city government while nominally in the hands of the Republicans is actually and in fact controlled by a ring whose authority is exerted through the governor's appointees and the officers of the county.

At the same time a most harmful influence is exerted upon state politics and state administration and important matters are subordinated to the strife over the rich prizes of the Denver city government.

The Rush bill is intended to correct this evil by placing the control of Denver city affairs where it properly belongs, in the hands of the people of that city.

The Rush bill is the only possible method of obtaining this result now before the voters of the state.

For many years past the conventions of both political parties and public sentiment generally have favored the separation of Denver city affairs and state politics but the influences exerted for the continuance of existing evils were so powerful that it was not until the recent session of the legislature that any remedy was secured.

It was a knowledge of these facts, that led the Republican state convention to give this measure its indorsement.

The interests of good government in the state at large as well as justice toward the people of Denver require that the Rush amendment should be ratified by the voters of the state.

THE GAZETTE CAMPAIGN NUMBER.

TOMORROW morning the Gazette will issue a Republican campaign edition, which will be of unusual interest to all its readers.

The principal features of this special edition will be a carefully prepared statement from each Republican county chairman throughout the state upon the exact condition of political affairs in his county, and the prospects for the coming election.

A special effort has been made to secure accuracy and reliability in these reports, and they will give as good an idea as it is possible to get at this time of the exact political situation from the Republican standpoint.

There will also be a valuable series of personal sketches and portraits under the general heading of "Men Who Are Making Colorado Republican." This will include not only state and local candidates, but also men of prominence in political affairs in this and other counties.

The Gazette campaign edition of two years ago was generally recognised as the best one of the kind issued in the state, and this year's number will surpass that in value and interest.

While steadfastly pursuing the policy of treating every one, including political opponents, with absolute fairness, and giving to Gazette readers the opportunity of reading both sides of current questions in these columns, the Gazette is earnestly of the belief that the success of the Republican party in this campaign is for the best interests of the people of Colorado both as regards our state and our national affairs.

As to the success that has attended the Gazette efforts, we are once more indebted to our good friends of the state press, the Fort Collins Courier recently having declared:

"No newspaper in the state is doing as good, clean, able work for the Republican ticket as the Colorado Springs Gazette. This is saying a great deal but it is the truth nevertheless."

It is the hope and purpose of the Gazette management that this special campaign edition may contribute materially to assure the Republican victory that now seems clearly in sight.

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

THE increased activity and better prices in the Colorado Springs mining stock market are indicative of a change for the better that is now being felt throughout the country.

The great strike of the anthracite coal miners in Pennsylvania has undoubtedly had a paralyzing effect on business throughout the country and while not much has been said in the newspapers upon this phase of the matter the grave fears of continued business disturbance and possibly of serious civil troubles effectually checked the course of business enterprise.

The settlement of the coal strike was felt instantaneously in business circles not only in the states directly affected but from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Coal dealers in eastern cities who had been holding their meager supplies at fancy prices began to ask for offers for their stock at greatly reduced figures. Mills that had been using the smallest possible amounts of fuel returned to their usual customs and even before it was definitely announced that the strike was settled word was flashed across the ocean to stop the purchases of coal for American account.

But the injury inflicted by the coal strike was largely anticipatory. It was not what had already happened but what people were afraid was going to happen that stopped the wheels of industry and put a stop to speculative business investments. The recovery from the announcement of the settlement of the coal strike was immediate and business started forward with all the greater activity because of its temporary check.

The coal strike undoubtedly made the political prospects more dubious than they had been. The Democratic party as usual was quick to take advantage of any possibility of disaster. It was not known what the result of the strike would be and it was not known how far it might influence the election of Democratic congressmen in eastern states. The declaration of the Democratic state convention of New York in favor of the government ownership and operation of the coal mines [illegible] tions of that party upon the trust question was merely a bid for popular favor and it was utterly inconsistent with the party record and declarations of national and state Democracy in favor of states rights and against a strong centralized federal government. But it was not known to what extent the people might be impressed by it and the specter of Democratic control of congress was of itself sufficient to cause disquiet among the business interests of the country and this tended to increase the evil effect of the strike.

Now that the strike has been settled [illegible] way as to increase rather than to diminish the prestige of the Republican administration business operations are resumed with a serene confidence that national affairs will be safe for at least two years more and the probability of the re-election of President Roosevelt and a Republican congress in 1904 is greater than it ever has been.

In Colorado the situation is somewhat more complex. Unnumbered harm has been done to the business interests of the state by the continuance in office of a Democratic state administration whose main purpose was one of political ambition and personal advantage and of a legislature whose practical effort seems to have been directed toward doing as little good as possible and engaging in freak and experimental legislation of various kinds to the detriment of the business interests of the state and the welfare of the common people.

The Thirteenth general assembly for instance proved itself to be incapable even of doing a good thing in the right way. The revenue law which was enacted at the regular session was in many ways superior to the obsolete and outgrown taxation law previously in force. But it nevertheless contained some grossly unjust features and it was so carelessly drawn that it was declared invalid by the courts and an expensive extra session was necessary in order to secure its legal passage.

So in the case of the constitutional amendments. The popular demand for these measures had been voiced repeatedly in the conventions of both parties without heed of the Democratic politicians and when finally the demand became irresistible the amendments as proposed by the legislature were written in such a way as to leave room for grave criticism and serious doubt of their constitutionality. And the same legislature that approved home rule for Denver, biennial state elections, the eight hour law for mine and smelter workers and the higher standard of citizenship also ratified the dangerous Bucklin tax law which has had a most pernicious influence in unsettling confidence and in injuring the reputation of this state for sound sense in the management of its political affairs.

It is going to make a great deal of difference in the next two years whether the Republican ticket is elected and the Bucklin bill defeated at the coming election. It may not make as much difference as a great many people seem to think for business is much more independent of politics than the politicians affect to believe but the Gazette is sincerely of the belief that a considerable part of the improved business outlook in the state at the present time is due to a due re-conviction of the probability of Republican success at the coming election.

What is true of the state generally is true also of Colorado Springs. This city has much to gain by the election of Republican congressmen, Republican state officials and a Republican legislature. That Colorado Springs and El Paso county will give a large Republican majority, there is not the shadow of a doubt, but it is of immense importance to us and to our fellow Republicans throughout the state that we should make this majority as large as possible. Last year the Republican candidate for county clerk in this county had a plurality of nearly 2,?00 votes over his Fusion opponent. This fall our vote on the state ticket should equal if it does not exceed this figure.

With the very favorable outlook for mining developments both in the field and in the stock markets with the incalculable benefits impending as a result of national aid to irrigation, with the continuance of Republican policies and Republican prosperity assured in the nation for many years to come, and with an abundance of idle capital available for profitable investment in Colorado, it is of the highest importance at this time that the people of this state should adopt a political policy that will show them to be in line with the best thought and intelligence of the nation, that will invite the favorable attention of homeseekers and investors, and that will as rapidly as possible dissipate the unfavorable ideas that have been disseminated as a result of the prevalence of Democratic-fusion in our state affairs and our congressional representation.

In the light of past events the present Democratic appeals for Populist and Socialist votes for Democratic candidates are laughable. If they really mean business why don't the Democrats indorse Judge Owers and the Socialist candidate for congressman-at-large and start fair.

Andrew Carnegie has been giving some good advice to Europe on continental union as an offset to American trade aggression. After all, government is one kind of a business and the Europeans should get down to a business basis if they expect to compete in our class.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

Mr Stratton's Faithful Employes

Colorado Springs Oct. 24 1902.

To the Editor of the Colorado Springs Gazette.

Dear Sir —I have read with interest your article under the caption "Stratton Estate is Blowing in the Wind."

I ask permission to reply to it through your columns. Upon reading it the first thought was that of surprise that such erroneous impressions could exist. The fact that we had possibly fallen into the error of thinking the public knew as well as we did that the interests in our hands were more rigidly and zealously safeguarded now than during Mr. Stratton's lifetime. If the public do not know this then it is their right to have it told without further delay.

When Mr Stratton died almost all of his property was owned by properly incorporated companies viz.

The Colorado Springs and Interurban Railway Company.

The International Realty Company.

The Stratton Cripple Creek Mining and Development Company.

The only exceptions were life [illegible] home a few minor pieces of real estate from which no income is being derived and some mining and bank shares.

The Colorado Springs and Interurban Railway company is managed by its board of directors of which A G Sharp is vice president. An auditing committee meets regularly. This committee consists of the vice president, the secretary and treasurer and the company's superintendent. Every bill before it is paid is passed upon by this committee which reports to the board at its regular meetings. [illegible]

[illegible] International Realty company is managed by the board of trustees of which A. G. Sharp is president and [illegible]

[illegible] The Stratton Cripple Creek Mining and Development company is managed [illegible] Its work at present [illegible] development [illegible] by Mr. Stratton in his lifetime.

In short the affairs of these three companies are [illegible]

[illegible] During the last year of Mr. Stratton's life [illegible]

Mr. Stratton died on Tuesday [illegible] On Wednesday September 17 [illegible] executors Mr. Stratton's chosen [illegible] trust [illegible]

[illegible]

Wm [illegible]

Estate of [illegible] W. S. Stratton.

The Gazette had not the remotest intention of [illegible] reflecting upon any of the trusted and splendid men employed by or associated with Mr. Stratton [illegible] business affairs [illegible] probate court [illegible] of all the affairs of estates until they are fully settled [illegible] never heard of an estate [illegible] agent or employee without any supervision of the probate court and without any person being under bond [illegible] custody of the property. And the estate should be no exception to the laws and customs controlling other estates that are taken [illegible] to the probate court.

Whatever executors or administrators may manage Mr Stratton's estate they would make a fatal blunder to let out of employment Mr. Stratton or any other of Mr. Stratton's faithful employes.

What Does the Bucklin Bill Mean?

The meaning and effect of any proposed amendment to the constitution of our state should be perfectly plain. In fact it should be beyond discussion so that the voters may know precisely what they are incorporating into the fundamental law. This is a proposition that no one can disagree on with an honest and intelligent citizen.

The amendment proposed by Senator Bucklin reads as follows:

"One. In four years the voters of any county may exempt from all taxation for county, state, town, school, road and other local purposes any or all personal property and improvements on land."

The following inquiries in view of the sweeping change in the organic law made by this proposed amendment suggest themselves in connection with this bill.

First.—May the voters of any county exempt one class of personal property and tax another, as for instance may they exempt moneys, notes and credits and refuse to exempt household goods and merchandise?

Second.—May they exempt some improvements on land and tax others as for instance, may the voters of Arapahoe county exempt improvements on strictly residence property when occupied by the owner and refuse to exempt improvements on such property when not occupied by the owner, or may the voters exempt all residence property and refuse to exempt improvements on business property? Or still further may they exempt the improvements on business property costing less than $100,000 and impose taxes on the improvements on business property where the same is in excess of the value of $100,000? Or still again may they exempt residence property improvements costing less than $5,000 and refuse to exempt where such improvements cost more than that amount?

Third.—May the voters in any county exempt all personal property and improvements on land from taxation for county and school purposes, where the same is not located in cities or towns, and refuse to exempt such property from taxation for such purposes where it happens to be located within the corporate limits of a city or town? Or, may they tax all property of every kind in cities and towns for all purposes, and exempt personal property and improvements on lands, where such property is without the corporate limits of cities and towns? In other words are the taxpayers of Colorado to be put in a position where taxes will be or may be determined by the locality of the property in the particular county, and by the fact that a majority of the voters may exist in or out of the corporate limits of cities towns and villages?

Fourth.—If the voters of any county desire to exempt improvements on land, are they compelled to exempt all improvements on land or does the expression "any or all" in the above extract from the Bucklin bill qualify "improvements on land" as well as personal property?

Fifth.—Section 3 of article 10 of the present constitution provides that "all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax."

Does the Bucklin bill repeal by implication this provision or is this provision still applicable and must the question of exemptions under the Bucklin bill be governed by it? In other words if an exemption of any particular personal property is desired must all personal property be exempt, in order to make taxes uniform on the same class of subjects in compliance with section 3 above referred to?

Many questions of this kind occur when this provision is studied. An analysis of the Bucklin bill seems to justify the conclusion that under its provisions the matter of taxation in any county will largely be determined by the ever-changing and fluctuating current of a popular vote. In other words a man owning a large amount of personal property may be a taxpayer one year and the next year pay nothing at all except for state purposes. He may pay taxes for city purposes and school purposes this year and be exempt the next year.

Fifty per cent of the property of Arapahoe county returned this year is personal property. Taking that ratio as a proper ratio for all the years it is possible under the Bucklin bill that a man's property may be taxed twice this year what it was last year, depending altogether on the fact of whether the voters choose to exempt half of the property on which they choose to levy. [illegible] In other words no man can safely say what his taxes will be this year or next year. In effect they depend upon popular vote [illegible] those exemptions both those who have property and those who have not all are the judges. It is safe to say that practically all questions of revenue in this county under the Bucklin bill will be determined by men who have no property at all. That this condition of affairs violates all the received and accepted axioms of sound and stable taxation must be apparent to anyone familiar with economic history in the slightest degree.

Chicago and Theodore Thomas

The modest little [illegible] recently [illegible] by the association which has for [illegible] years generously and splendidly backed and supported the great Chicago orchestra of which Theodore Thomas is the director [illegible] Rabbi Hirsch [illegible] forth for instance the striking fact that within these 11 years the members of the association who are all Chicago men and women have made up a total deficit of $?70,000 between the income and the expenses of the orchestra. This great deficit has been [illegible] met by the wealthy music lovers of Chicago [illegible] education and [illegible] elevating the music taste of the public [illegible] the first of the orchestras [illegible] in any other section of the country in their appreciation of orchestral music of the highest class for Theodore Thomas had not only failed to make his orchestra pay for itself in both Boston and New York for he [illegible] had failed [illegible] generous public spirit [illegible] his backs [illegible] There [illegible] other city [illegible] the capital [illegible] to stand [illegible] willing to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars [illegible] high art [illegible] But [illegible] Chicago [illegible] in the [illegible] His [illegible] Rabbi [illegible] the stand [illegible] second [illegible] Practical people will say of money that the deficit could be avoided and the orchestra be made self-supporting if a great variety of popular music were [illegible] programs. But it is a fine thing in this day to find a city which though it was strong on a slur and refuses to cater to the trolley for the sake of the additional fares he could pick up. And it is a still finer and much more remarkable thing that in what has been called the most materialistic and modern of cities men and women who tell the orchestra to go ahead and they will see its does not lack for a plentiful supply of axle grease. [illegible] significant in the fact that the prospects for the 12th annual season of the orchestra are that it will almost if not quite pay for itself. In which case Mr. Thomas and his backers may well feel that the long effort and the great expense have not been in vain.—(Illu pera Weekly)

Zola in Exile

Ernest Alfred Vizetelly in "True Stories of Great Lives" (Funk & Wagnalls company) has given a very interesting account of how he and eleven other English friends of Emile Zola kept secret the knowledge of the novelist's whereabouts when he was in exile owing to the part he had taken in the trial when the affair had not been completed. Mr. Vizetelly says:

How Zola's latter [illegible] to his prosecution how he was tried and retired how advised by his friends he left France—not to escape imprisonment but purely and simply to keep the affair open and thwart all attempts to stifle it in the interests of the French general staff all these matters belong to history. The case has not been stifled. It has steadily gone on and on. Truth as Zola puts it, was—and is—on the march. As for himself he knew to whom to come when he quitted his native land. For years he had never had but staunch men and true around him. Thus he disappeared in the interests of his cause and the world asked "Where is Zola?"

"Just a few people knew the precise spot—I among them. But all the wealth of all the American millionaires put together could not draw the secret from any one of us. We were happy in this, we numbered a dozen and we counted no Judas Iscariot in our midst. For many months Zola's enemies wished to serve on him personally the judgment pronounced against him by default by the court of Versailles, and this virtually meant that he would be forced to do a year's imprisonment without chance of appeal. We were all determined that he should do no such thing. We learned from eminent English counsel that it was legally possible for a French process-server to hand Zola a copy of the French judgment against him even in England, provided that no breach of the queen's peace were committed, and thus in this event he would have to put in an appearance in France within five days under penalty of finding his conviction definitive beyond question of appeal. So we hid him, and what friend of truth and justice will blame us?"
